South African Army Application Form 2015:

Intra-Africa Migrations Innocent Moyo, Jussi P. Laine, Christopher Changwe Nshimbi, 2021-02-21 This book discusses regional and continental integration in Africa by examining the management of migration across the continent. It examines borders and securitisation of migration and the challenges and opportunities that arise out of reconfigured continental demographics. The book offers insights on intra Africa migrations and highlights how intra continental migration creates socio economic and cultural borders. It explores how these borders beyond the physical boundaries of states including the Berlin Conference constructed borders create cultural divides challenges for economic integration and cross border security and irregular migration patterns. While the movement of economic goods is valued for regional economic integration the mobility of people is seen as a threat. This approach to migration contradicts the intentions of true integration and development and triggers negative responses such as xenophobia that cannot be addressed by simply managing the physical border and allowing free movement. This book engages in a pivotal discussion of these issues which are hitherto missing in African border studies by demonstrating the ubiquity and overreaching influence of various kinds of borders on the African continent. With multidisciplinary contributions that provide an in depth understanding of intra Africa migrations and strategies for enhanced migration management this book will be a useful resource for scholars and students studying geography politics security studies development studies African studies and sociology. The Handbook of African Defence and Armed Forces Evert Kleynhans, Marco Wyss, 2025-03-01 The Handbook of African Defence and Armed Forces provides the first in depth and multifaceted analysis of the evolution and current state of national defence policies strategies doctrines capabilities security challenges and strategic responses of African states and their armed forces. Geographically these aspects are investigated at the national sub regional and regional levels. Chronologically they are analysed against the backdrop of the superpower withdrawal from the continent in the 1990s and the so called New Scramble for Africa which has seen a crescendo of renewed great power interest in the continent's resources as well as its strategic role location and relevance since the 2000s. The book takes a bottom up and African centric approach and is organized around five key themes: i the differing security outlooks and defence policies of African powers within the region and the different sub regions ii the strategies doctrines transformation and employment of African armed forces iii the relationship between African armed forces with sub regional regional and international organizations iv the challenges that African states and their armed forces have been facing and their strategic responses and v the position of African perspectives and agency in the context of continental and international security and defence. Understanding African security and defence especially in terms of each individual nation's ability to contribute to peacekeeping operations counterterrorism border security and internal security requires a focus on the national level of armed forces and defence policies. This in turn sheds light on sub regional and regional divergences challenges and cooperation Based on this framework the chapters in this volume offer comprehensive African perspectives on African and international security and defence and in doing so show the agency of the continent's countries and armed forces in International Security and Relations South Africa's Post-Apartheid Military Lindy Heineken, 2020-01-01 This timely book examines how the South African National Defence Force has adapted to the country's new security political and social environment since 1994 In South Africa's changed political state how has civilian control of the military been implemented and what does this mean for defence in a democracy This book presents an overview of the security environment how the mission focus of the military has changed and the implications for force procurement force preparation force employment and force sustainability The author addresses other issues such as the effect of integrating former revolutionary soldiers into a professional armed force the effect of affirmative action on meritocracy recruitment and retention military veterans looking at the difficulties they face in reintegrating back into society and finding gainful employment gender equality and mainstreaming the rise of military unions and why a confrontational instead of a more corporatist approach to labour relations has emerged HIV AIDS and the consequences this holds for the military in terms of its operational effectiveness In closing the author highlights key events that have caused the SANDF to become lost in transition and transformation spelling out some lessons learned The conclusions she draws are pertinent for the future of defence security and civil military relations of countries around the world Military Assistance on Request and the Use of Force Erika De Wet, 2020-03-26 In countries such as Syria Iraq South Sudan and Yemen internationally recognized governments embroiled in protracted armed conflicts and with very little control over their territory have requested direct military assistance from other states These requests are often accepted by the other states despite the circumvention of the United Nations Security Council and extensive violation of international humanitarian law and human rights In this book Erika De Wet examines the authority entitled to extend a request for or consent to direct military assistance as well as the type of situations during which such assistance may be requested notably whether it may be requested during a civil war Ultimately De Wet addresses the question of if and to what extent the proliferation of military assistance on the request of a recognized government is changing the rules in international law applying to the use of force The Counterinsurgent Imagination Joseph MacKay, 2023-01-05 A critical intellectual history of counterinsurgency from early modernity to the present analyzing military manuals their authors and their use Constitutionalism and the Economy in Africa Charles Manga Fombad, Nico Steytler, 2022 This volume looks at the relationship between constitutional law and the African political economy It tackles a range of issues from the impact of globalization to the State's role in the economy and the constitutional foundations for land and natural resources exploitation regulation and protection A Global History of Anti-Apartheid Anna Konieczna, Rob Skinner, 2019-04-15 This book explores the global history of anti-apartheid and international solidarity with southern African freedom struggles from the 1960s It examines the institutions campaigns and ideological frameworks that defined the globalization of anti apartheid the ways in which the concept of solidarity was mediated by individuals organizations and states and considers the multiplicity of actors and interactions involved in generating and sustaining anti apartheid around the world It includes detailed accounts of key case studies from Europe Asia and Latin America which illustrate the complex relationships between local and global agendas as well as the diverse political cultures embodied in anti apartheid Taken together these examples reveal the tensions and synergies transnational webs and local contingencies that helped to create the sense of being global that united worldwide anti apartheid campaigns

The Ethics of Military Privatization David M. Barnes, 2016-08-25 This book explores the ethical implications of using armed contractors taking a consequentialist approach to this multidisciplinary debate While privatization is not a new concept for the US military the public debate on military privatization is limited to legal financial and pragmatic concerns A critical assessment of the ethical dimensions of military privatization in general is missing More specifically in light of the increased reliance upon armed contractors it must be asked whether it is morally permissible for governments to employ them at all To this end this book explores four areas that highlight the ethical implications of using armed contractors how armed contractors are distinct from soldiers and mercenaries the commodification of force the belligerent equality of combatants and the impact of armed contractors on the professional military While some take an absolutist position wanting to bar the use of private military altogether this book reveals how these absolutist arguments are problematic and highlights that there are circumstances where turning to private force may be the only option Recognising that outsourcing force will continue this book thus proposes some changes to account for the problems of commodification belligerent equality and the challenge to the military profession This book will be of interest to students of private security military studies ethics security studies and IR in general

South Africa's Defence Industry Greg Mills, Martin Edmonds, 2001

Land Rights, Biodiversity Conservation and Justice Sharlene Mollett, Thembela Kepe, 2018-04-17 In the context of sustainable development recent land debates tend to construct two porous camps On the one side norms of land justice and their advocates dictate that people's rights to tenure security are tantamount and even sometimes key to successful conservation practice On the other hand biodiversity protection and conservation advocates supported by global environmental organizations and states remain committed to conservation strategies steeped in genetics and biological sciences working on behalf of a global mandate for biodiversity and climate change mitigation Land Rights Biodiversity Conservation and Justice seeks to illuminate struggles for land and territory in the context of biodiversity conservation This edited volume explores the particular ideologies narratives and practices that are mobilized when the agendas of biodiversity conservation practice meet clash and blend with the demands for land and access and control of resources from people living in and in close proximity to parks The book maintains that while biodiversity conservation is an important goal in a time where climate change is a real threat to human existence the successful and just future of biodiversity conservation is contingent upon land tenure security for local people The original research gathered together in this volume will be of considerable interest to researchers of development studies political ecology land rights and conservation
