Who's Gonna Water My Tomatoes? Michael A. Szolowicz, 2024-09-25 Who's Gonna Water My Tomatoes? School Gardens, Kitchens, and the Search for Educational Authenticity updates an old concept for our modern age: utilizing school gardens and culinary kitchens where students grow, prepare, and eat their own food. Over a century ago, the educational philosopher John Dewey proposed reforming education around the needs of the whole child, emphasizing academic learning and the child's social needs for effective participation in a democratic society. In Dewey's view, children would best learn by engaging in authentic experiences that would introduce, complement, and complete their regular classroom experiences. Dewey talked about school gardens and kitchens as two specific laboratories where children could apply what they were learning in school in daily life. Today, the tensions between experiential learning and the more rote learning often found in regular classrooms remain. Educators increasingly find themselves accountable to the narrow performance pressures imposed by standardized testing pressures that often squeeze out the joys and possibilities for more authentic and engaging learning found in real-world experiences. This book explores Dewey's philosophy with particular attention given to experiential learning's relationship to gardens and kitchens. The school garden and kitchen movement itself has ebbed and flowed over the last hundred years in response to changing societal and educational pressures. This history leads to the present day where the edible schoolyard movement is experiencing a new spring as educators, parents, and school communities find value in edible schoolyard's possibilities for providing more wholistic education that better meets the academic, social, and emotional needs of students. The book focuses on a network of edible schoolyards by introducing educators, teachers, principals, and staff who are making edible schoolyards happen today. Their vision and motivations form in their favorite lessons and in the connections between garden and kitchen experiences to the more traditional subject matter favored on state tests Suggestions and resources for starting new edible schoolyards including suggested recipes are provided for those who want to get growing with their own edible schoolyards Perfect for courses such as Educational Reform Educational History Educational Philosophy Educational Leadership Curriculum Development and Transformation Experiential Learning Project Based Learning and Educational Policy Environments Aunt Ruby's Green Tomato Bill Landis,2023-09-07 A professor of nutrition leaves his office and heads into the fields of a local farm to dig deeper into the reality of his food With the help of several of his students he films his experience chronicling the life of a tomato plant from seed to harvest on a small family farm He is introduced to farm life at quirky Eco Farm by Big John the rock star farmer Over the course of one summer he is schooled on the ways of organic agriculture the sex life of the tomato is introduced to the enigmatic world of heirloom tomatoes and ponders the spiritual life of plants and the miracle of a seed Told with humor and personal anecdotes from his food upbringing in New Jersey in the 1960s he takes a fresh look at the changes in the American dietary landscape over the last half century and attempts to salvage a connection to his food Upon visiting a tomato seed company in western North Carolina he learns of a unique heirloom tomato Aunt Ruby's German Green a rare green when ripe variety He decides to track down the story behind Aunt Ruby and her backyard tomato treasure hidden from the world for most of her life What starts out as a straightforward plan to learn more about where his food comes from takes him on a journey of self discovery that leaves him questioning his core assumptions about nutrition and the very essence of food finally finding clarity by way of an elderly woman from a little town in Tennessee and her unusual tomato Dissecting Stephen King Heidi Strengell,2005 In a thoughtful well informed study exploring fiction from throughout Stephen King's immense oeuvre Heidi Strengell shows how this popular writer enriches his unique brand of horror by building on the traditions of his literary heritage Tapping into the wellsprings of the gothic to reveal contemporary phobias King invokes the abnormal and repressed sexuality of the vampire the hubris of Frankenstein the split identity of the werewolf the domestic melodrama of the ghost tale Drawing on myths and fairy tales he creates characters who like the heroic Roland the Gunslinger and the villainous Randall Flagg may either reinforce or subvert the reader's childlike faith in society And in the manner of the naturalist tradition he reinforces a tension between the free will of the individual and the daunting hand of fate Ultimately Strengell shows how King shatters our illusions of safety and control King places his decent and basically good characters at the mercy of indifferent forces survival depending on their moral strength and the responsibility they may take for their fellow men Children ,1929 Identification and Functional Dissection of Stress-responsive Genes in Cotton Jia-He Wu,Hong Zhang,Qing Liu,Lanqin Xia,Jinfa Zhang,Fuguang Li,2022-11-22 How to Teach Nutrition to Kids Connie Liakos Evers,1995 Contains nutrition education activities and strategies that integrate nutrition into the classroom cafeteria and home environments Highlights include guidelines for instilling positive food attitudes information on how to make the
