Units and Measurements

a. SI Units (see Appendix 1 of textbook)

Mass (kg) – the property that resists acceleration

SI units	Common	Conversion
Length	meters	m
Mass	kilograms	kg
Time	seconds	s
Volume (1 cubic)	liters	L
Temperature	degrees	°C
Amount of Substance	moles	mol

Example 1: Mass – units for other physical quantities that are proportional to Mass (force)

Example: What is the mass of a 100 kg person? (mass does not increase just because it's moving)

Example: Density is measured in kg/m³. Mass is measured in kg, volume is measured in m³. But the density of 100 kg/m³ is dimensionally incorrect. It should be in kg/m³.

$$\text{Density} = \frac{m}{V} \text{ (mass/volume)}$$

Example: Specific heat is $\frac{\text{Joules}}{\text{kg} \cdot \text{°C}}$. Mass is measured in kg, energy is Joules.

b. Metric Prefixes – Adapt your SI units system. The metric system is composed of several units that are related to each other by powers of 10. The units are: meter (length), kilogram (mass), second (time), mole (amount of substance), kelvin (temperature), ampere (electric current), candela (light intensity).

SI Unit	Prefix	Symbol
meter	10 ⁰	m
centimeter	10 ⁻²	cm
millimeter	10 ⁻³	mm
decimeter	10 ⁻¹	dm
nanometer	10 ⁻⁹	nm
micrometer	10 ⁻⁶	µm
millimeter	10 ⁻³	mm
centimeter	10 ⁻²	cm
decimeter	10 ⁻¹	dm
meter	10 ⁰	m
kilometer	10 ³	km

Example: 100 kg is 10² kg.

$$100 \text{ kg} = \frac{10^2 \cdot \text{kg}}{10^0} = 10^2 \text{ kg}$$

Example: 1000 m is 10³ m.

$$1000 \text{ m} = \frac{10^3 \cdot \text{m}}{10^0} = 10^3 \text{ m}$$

Example: 1000 kg is 10³ kg.

$$1000 \text{ kg} = \frac{10^3 \cdot \text{kg}}{10^0} = 10^3 \text{ kg}$$

Example: 1000 kg is 10³ kg. The unit is kg, not kg/m³. The unit is kg.

United States. Agricultural Research Service, 1969 Millikan's School: A History of the California Institute of Technology Judith Goodstein, 2020-10-19 In November 1891 wealthy former abolitionist and Chicago politician Amos Throop founded a thoroughly undistinguished small college in Pasadena California which he named after himself Millikan's School is the history of this institution that stands today at the pinnacle of world academics with 300 full time faculty nearly 1 000 undergraduate 1 250 graduate students and 39 Caltech and alumni Nobel Prize recipients Although Amos Throop the name of the college was changed to Caltech in 1920 could not have realized the importance of geography the fact that Pasadena lay at the foot of Mount Wilson was central to its success astronomer George Ellery Hale built his telescope there in 1902 the finest at that time in the world Later Hale joined the board of trustees of the struggling school and persuaded Arthur Amos Noyes former president of MIT and the nation's leading physical chemist to join him in Pasadena The third member of Caltech's founding troika was renowned physicist Robert A Millikan from the University of Chicago The dedication of Caltech in 1920 and the proclamation of what it stood for in science and education set the stage for Millikan who functioned as the school's president to bring the best and the brightest from all over the world Theodore von Kármán in aeronautics Thomas Hunt Morgan in biology Paul Sophus Epstein in physics Beno Gutenberg in seismology Linus Pauling in chemistry to Pasadena to work in an ever larger number of areas in science and technology The book also covers the funding planning and construction of the 200 inch telescope on Palomar Mountain Willy Fowler's work in nuclear astrophysics and the wartime rocket experiments that grew into the Jet Propulsion Laboratory JPL today the world leader in deep space exploration Millikan's School presents an interesting and thoroughly reliable account of the astonishing change over a period of a few years of a small technical school in Pasadena California into one of the world's leading scientific institutions Linus Pauling In Millikan's School Judith Goodstein tells the remarkable story of the rise of Caltech She details how Millikan aided by Hale and Arthur Amos Noyes America's leading physical chemist and another of Hale's inspired acquisitions took a former trade school and forged from it a grandiose university among the orange groves It would be impossible while reading Goodstein's lively account not to be impressed by the energy drive and boundless enthusiasm of men like Millikan Hale and Noyes who had the bare faced audacity to set about building an institute to rival the cream of the universities of Europe and America Marcus Chown New Scientist Goodstein's story is first and foremost the tale of three men the astronomer George Ellery Hale the chemist Alfred Noyes and the physicist Robert Millikan It is the story of their attempts to transform an undistinguished little school founded in 1891 into a world class scientific establishment A useful book Tony Rothman Science In Millikan's School the story of Throop University's transformation into Caltech is told with precision Judith Goodstein's history offers a quick tour of the landmarks of science in the mid 20th Century and a glance at how pure science puts itself at the service of government commerce and the military Goodstein approaches her subject with a healthy sense of humor and an acute sense of academic politics She tells a wonderful story about how Caltech lost to Princeton in a bidding war over the services of Albert Einstein for example To her credit Goodstein asks the hard question What is the best way to do science Millikan s School offers enough hard data to enable us to come to our own conclusions Jonathan Kirsch Los Angeles Times A cleanly written scientifically well informed account of one of the world s foremost institutions for science and technology Ed Regis Nature Relying on archival material published secondary sources and interviews with institute scientists Goodstein presents a highly readable account of Caltech s beginnings at the turn of the century substantive informative and a good read Rebecca S Lowen Technology and Culture As a history of science this book is well crafted Orderly in its flow it is not only a tribute to Millikan but also places him within the development of physics as a field Andrew Rolle Southern California Quarterly A fascinating history that speaks to issues far larger than Cal Tech itself This well written and honest account witness the many cited instances of anti-Semitism in the scientific world is both a good read and a sobering reminder that big science and top schools are not brought by storks Carroll Pursell History of Education Quarterly The author focuses on the personalities and the research fields of the principal scientific figures The emphasis on personalities and capsule surveys of relevant scientific fields produce a book that can be apprehended by a wide audience Roger Geiger Isis This chronicle offers glimpses of the passion and drive that have motivated a roster of distinguished scientists Publishers Weekly A lively tale Goodstein s individual profiles are lean and candid her background on subjects as diverse as nuclear astrophysics seismology aeronautical design quantum mechanics and rocket fuel are crisp and understandable With a light style and meticulous documentation Goodstein has produced a tale worthy of her subject Marshall Robinson Foundation News A distinguished and uniquely American institution has found its chronicler and its chronicle in Judith Goodstein s thorough but compact story of Millikan s School The emergence of Caltech as a powerhouse of science and engineering and a makeweight in the technological advancement of 20th century industry is both beautifully and reliably presented Harry Woolf Institute for Advanced Study Princeton University Agricultural Research ,1989 California State Journal of Medicine ,1912
