

Background information given:

Topic: Short-term trading, international accounting, cost/benefit analysis

Background:

Southampton plc has been negotiating a contract with a potential customer in Russia. Before the negotiation started, the Russian company requested the contract to be written in order to ensure the interests of Southampton. These requests were included in the cost accounting and therefore need to be added. This is the first report under the company's cost accounting since 1998. Unfortunately, the previous cost accounting system was outdated and therefore needed the first strategy plan to be corrected or updated in the year.

The sales department has proposed the following statement showing that the contract will make a profit if it is written for the sales department to produce and estimate an appropriate cost of expenditure in the year of work.

Obviously the management accountant will also be asked to estimate other expenses proposed by the sales department. As this order is different and may need to be for other reasons, it may be that the sales manager needs the management accountant to estimate for the statement below.

Statement prepared by sales department

Costs including direct £100,000 (cost order)	£
Labour (cost order)	20,000
Overhead (cost order)	10,000
Energy materials (cost order)	5,000
Administration charges (cost order)	10,000
Materials (cost order)	15,000
Expenditure on machinery (cost order)	5,000
Total	165,000

After the completion of management accounting process a profit report. The costs given are management below:

Statement from management accountant

Order 1: This report will be based on the following:

Order 2: This report will include £100,000 as costs for goods that have already been received. This is the cost of working, expenditure to produce or buy and the materials.

Order 3: This is £100,000 of the cost of expenditure. It is estimated that the expenditure will appear about half the price on the contract. This cost will be included in £100,000 because for the statement of the company is completed on this.
