The Crisis of Capitalism in the Contemporary Novel Andrew Rowcroft, 2024-02-16 This book explores the role of radical ideas in contemporary fiction by nine critically acclaimed authors Jonathan Lethem Dana Spiotta China Mieville Thomas Pynchon Rachel Kushner Teddy Wayne Colson Whitehead Jacqueline Woodson and Kim Stanley Robinson All of them share interests in the politics of the left the problems of protracted economic crisis and the potentiality of post-capitalist ideas Novels by these authors this book argues are defined by an imperative to confront current anxieties in left thought while at the same time evincing a nuanced degree of self-consciousness about the legacy of political

Carnahan, 2010-02-12 The acclaimed Lincoln scholar examines the president's treatment of Southern civilians during the Civil War shedding new light on his wartime conduct By twenty first century standards President Lincoln's adherence to the laws of war would be considered questionable But could be condemned as a war criminal based on the accepted standards of his time Lincoln's critics past and present have not hesitated to make the charge while his apologists defend his actions as reasonable and humane In Lincoln on Trial Burrus M Carnahan examines Lincoln's leadership throughout the Civil War as he struggled to balance his own humanity against the demands of his generals Carnahan specifically scrutinizes Lincoln's conduct toward Southerners in light of the international legal standards of his time as the president wrestled with issues such as bombardment of cities collateral damage to civilians seizure and destruction of property forced relocation and the slaughter of hostages Carnahan investigates a wide range of historical materials from accounts of the Dahlgren raid to the voices of Southern civilians who bore the brunt of extensive wartime destruction Through analysis of both historic and modern standards of behavior in times of war a sobering yet sympathetic portrait of one of America's most revered presidents emerges International Record of Medicine and General Practice Clinics Frank Pierce Foster, 1897 Fields of Death Richard Evans, 2013-09-09 Richard Evans revisits the sites of a selection of Greek and Roman battles and sieges to seek new insights The battle narratives in ancient sources can be a thrilling read and form the basis of our knowledge of these epic events but they can just as often provide an incomplete or obscure record Details especially those related to topographical and geographical issues which can have a fundamental importance to military actions are left tantalisingly unclear to the modern reader The evidence from archaeological excavation work can sometimes fill in a gap in our understanding but such an approach remains uncommon in studying ancient battles By combining the ancient sources and latest archaeological findings with his personal observations on the ground Richard Evans brings new perspectives to the dramatic events of the distant past For example why did armies miss one another in what we might today consider relatively benign terrain Just how important was the terrain in determining victory or defeat in these clashes The author has carefully selected battles and sieges to explore first of all to identify their locations and see how these fit with the ancient evidence He then examines the historical episodes themselves offering new observations from first hand study of the field of battle along with up to date photographs maps and diagrams In the process he discusses whether and how the terrain has since been changed by land use erosion and other factors and the extent to which what we see today represents a real connection with the dramatic events of the distant past

The Book of Amos and its Audiences Andrew R. Davis, 2023-06-22 Many studies of the prophetic books assume that a text's addressee and audience are one and the same Sometimes this is the case but some prophetic texts feature multiple addressees who cannot be collapsed into a single setting In this book Andrew R Davis examines examples of multiple addressees within the book of Amos and argues that they force us to expand our understanding of prophetic audiences Drawing insight from studies of poetic address in other disciplines Davis distinguishes between the addressee within the text and the actual audience outside the text He combines in depth poetic analysis with historical inquiry and shows the ways that the prophetic discourse of the book of Amos is triangulated among multiple audiences Poverty, Eschatology and the Medieval Church, 2023-07-03 This volume is a collection of essays written in honor of David Burr emeritus professor at the Polytechnic University of Virginia Blacksburg a scholar who has spent a career researching and publishing on the multifaceted phenomenon of the Spiritual Franciscans late 13th early 14th century and in particular on the life and writings of Peter of John Olivi in southern France Representing some of the finest scholars in the field these eighteen scholarly essays touch on aspects of both phenomena Three essays are devoted to the historiography of David Burr three are dedicated to medieval Apocalypticism another seven deal specifically with Peter of John Olivi and five final essays explore aspects of the Spiritual Franciscans their precursors and adherents Contributors are C Colt Anderson Marco Bartoli Michael F Cusato Gilbert Dahan Alberto Forni Fortunato Iozzelli Philip D Krey Robert E Lerner Warren Lewis Michele Lodone Kevin Madigan Antonio Montefusco Delfi I Nieto Isabel Dabney G Park Sylvain Piron Gian Luca Potest Marco Rainini and Paolo Vian
