George Farkas, 2017-09-05 This study seeks to reorient our understanding of the early educational determinants of social stratification outcomes It focuses on the process and consequences of unequal cognitive skill attainment for ethnic and poverty groups within our nation's cities. It draws theoretically on the notion that experiences at home and school create a feedback loop by which the cultural capital of the students, their toolkit of skills, habits, and styles with which they construct strategies of action, evolves over time and largely determines differential success in mastering the teacher assigned homework. Reading & Writing Grade by Grade New Standards (Organization). Guided Reading Wright Group, Incorporated, 1995 Man Who Never/SSN/o, 1996-01-01 Becoming Biliterate Bertha Perez, 2003-10-03 This book describes the development process and dynamics of change in the course of implementing a two-way bilingual immersion education program in two school communities. The focus is on the language and literacy learning of elementary school students and on how it is influenced by parents, teachers, and policymakers. Perez provides rich, highly detailed descriptions, both quantitative and qualitative, of the change process at the two schools involved, including student language and achievement data for five years of program implementation that were used to test the basic two-way bilingual theory, the specific school interventions, and the particular classroom instructional practices. The contribution of Becoming Biliterate: A Study of Two-Way Bilingual Immersion Education is to provide a comprehensive description of contextual and instructional factors that might help or hinder the attainment of successful literacy and student outcomes in both languages. The study has broad theoretical, policy, and practical instructional relevance for the many other U.S. school districts with large student populations of non-native speakers of English. This volume is highly relevant for researchers, teacher educators, and graduate students in bilingual and ESL education, language policy, linguistics, and language education, and as a text for master's and doctoral level classes in these areas. The All-Day Kindergarten and Pre-K Curriculum Doris Pronin Fromberg, 2012-03-22 Grounded in theory and research, The All-Day Kindergarten and Pre-K Curriculum provides an activity-based and classroom-proven curriculum for educators to consider as they plan and interact with pre-K and kindergarten children. Allowing young children the opportunities to become independent, caring, critical thinkers who feel comfortable asking questions and exploring possible solutions, the Dynamic Themes Curriculum offers children the skills they need for responsible citizenship and academic progress. This book describes a culturally sensitive pre-K and kindergarten curriculum in the context of literacy, technology, mathematics, social studies, science, the arts, and play, and also discusses how to use the seven integrated conditions for learning to meet and exceed content learning standards, how to organize for differentiated instruction, and to integrate multiple forms of assessment. How to teach literacy tools and skills in fresh ways, how to work with families, colleagues, and community. Building off of author Doris Fromberg's groundbreaking earlier work, The All-Day Kindergarten and Pre-K Curriculum presents a practical curriculum centering on how young children develop meanings. This is a fantastic resource for pre- and in-service early childhood teachers, administrators, and scholars. Readers and Writers in Primary Grades Martha Combs, 2002 For reading, writing, and literacy in elementary school courses, Readers and Writers in Primary Grades is organized around strategies that benefit teachers in their efforts to be responsive to the developmental literacy needs of young children Integrating theory and practice these strategies offer a balanced look at appropriate literacy activities for K 3 classrooms Moppys Ball/SSN/P, 1996-01-01 Effective Literacy Coaching Shari Frost, Roberta Buhle, Camille L.
