

Why I Want To Be A Dental Assistant?

6 pages | 1281 words

I want to be very happy my entire life and enjoy coming into work with full of excitement. This career I think would be perfect for me, and other people think so also, I am great with kids, I like working as a team, partners are a great way to start a friendship and helping each other out with some basic or challenging problems. I also like being a assistant in general, in high school, I love helping out in the office with details and being organized. I hope in college I stick with this career choice and it goes easy breezy. South Central absolutely has this degree, for me to pursue this career/profession. Under the awards and degrees, they have the Dental Assisting AAS Degree and the Dental Assisting Diploma. In the the Degree program, they have the list of every required class you need to take and optional courses. They have lots of basic medical courses that I need to take that will take a short period of time. The Diploma has a 9 month program that you can get at some certain jobs. I don't need an advanced degree, this degree is for a two year. My college offers dental programs but you can always get more by moving forward in your education. Some qualifications are To be eligible to take the CDA exam, applicants must hold a current CPR certification and meet one of the following qualifications: have graduated from an accredited dental assisting/dental hygiene program, have a high school diploma, or equivalent, and a minimum of 3,500 hours of approved work experience. The average hourly rate for Dental Assistant ranges from $16 to $19 with the average hourly pay of $18. The total hourly pay is $18. The total hourly compensation, which includes bonus, health and retirement, can vary anywhere from $16 to $20 with the average total hour. As a Dental Assistant, you can move up with a different person you work with a different person you work with, or move up to bigger corporation. Being your best on the job, can give you greater position. Be proactive. In a busy dental office, there is always something to do. Look around and spot what needs to be done, whether it is straightening the waiting room, restocking inventory, or talking to a patient who appears nervous. Be a good listener and ask questions. Dental assistants are in a position of assisting others. For this reason, they need to be particularly good listeners. If the dentist or hygienist asks you to do something, be sure to listen carefully, think it through, and ask any questions that you might have. Remember, it's better to ask questions than to make a guess and do it wrong. Be observant and organized during procedures. Many dental assistants are expected to sit chairside and assist the dentist during dental procedures. There can be fast changes of instruments and multiple tasks that need to be done at the same time. When the procedure begins, be observant. Try to anticipate what the dentist might need. Stay organized so you know where every instrument...

Student Workbook for The Administrative Dental Assistant - Revised Reprint - E-Book Linda J. Gaylor, 2022-02-02

Enhance your learning with a wealth of interactive exercises for practice reinforcement and recall. An indispensable companion to the textbook, the Student Workbook for The Administrative Dental Assistant 5th Edition combines the key objectives and content of the book with challenging exercises putting the information you need into a practical context. Separated by chapter for easy correlation to the text, the workbook contains chapter summaries, learning objectives, short answer, matching, multiple choice, and/or fill in the blank questions, case scenarios followed by critical thinking questions, new Computer Application Exercises, and fun puzzles to reinforce key terminology. The newly updated version of Dentrix Learning Edition practice management software available for download on Evolve is combined with original exercises in the workbook to help you learn to navigate it, and new content includes dental office technology, communication, and social media, and more. Correlation with the textbook enables students to follow along at every step to ensure their comprehension before moving forward. The newly updated version of Dentrix Learning Edition practice management software available for download on Evolve offers students practice using one of the most widely used programs in dental offices nationwide. Original practice management exercises developed by the text author work in conjunction with the Dentrix Learning Edition software to help students experience what it is like to work with dental practice management software. Review questions, exercises, and puzzles reinforce learning and offer students a myriad of opportunities for self-assessment. NEW and EXPANDED New content reflects additions to the main text and focuses on technology in the dental office, HIPAA, communication, and social media, patient recall and retention, coding, and cross medical billing. NEW Images throughout with a focus on updates in technology. NEW Computer application exercises assess student comprehension. UPDATED Revised artwork throughout the workbook.

Student Workbook for The Administrative Dental Assistant - E-Book Linda J. Gaylor, 2016-02-05

NEW Updated content reflects the main text's more complete incorporation of the move toward the paperless dental office and electronic health records (EHRs) specifically in areas such as scheduling, filing, bookkeeping, electronic record regulations, and insurance processing. HIPAA updates are also incorporated throughout. NEW Updated questions, activities, and puzzles reflect the changes in content and further the focus on critical thinking and application. NEW Semester project includes a series of relevant exercises that add up to a capstone project in which you will create office procedures and management for your own fictitious dental practice. NEW Original practice exercises developed by the text author work in conjunction with the Dentrix Learning Edition software to help you experience what it is like to work with dental practice management software. NEW Appendix forms supplement the cases and exercises provided in various workbook chapters.
