Research Paper Guidelines

Acknowledgement: This guideline was prepared using information from the Illinois Junior Science and Humanities Symposium.

Overview: The research paper is a written report describing original research results in science, mathematics, or engineering. The paper should rely on previously published literature primarily for background and comparative purposes.

Organization of Research Paper: Your paper should be organized as follows:

- Title page, or cover page
 - A short statement related to the content of the paper.
- Abstract
 - The abstract is a brief summary of the various aspects of the paper. The abstract should be about 200 words long, written in the past tense, and provide a brief overview in paragraph form of the following areas of the paper:
 - The purpose of the research or the research problem,
 - A general overview of how the problem was studied,
 - The principal findings and conclusions.
- Acknowledgments
 - The acknowledgments section is a short paragraph where the researcher describes the contributions of others to the research study (contribution of ideas, materials, procedures, analysis of data, etc.).
- Table of contents
 - The Table of Contents provides an outline that indicates the page location of the sections and subsections of the paper.
- List of tables and/or list of figures
 - Indicate the location of any tables or figures in the paper.
 - When making a List of Tables, include:
 - table numbers,
 - titles, and
 - page numbers.
 - When making a List of Figures, include:
 - figure numbers,
 - captions, and
 - page numbers.
- Introduction
 - The introduction provides background on the topic related to your research project, including the problem and the reason why you examined that topic. The introduction should provide sufficient information on the topic, using the literature that you read, so that the reader can understand your research project. The introduction should include the following:
 - A brief literature review. Cite and discuss previous research from relevant literature, and state how your research relates to or differs from others' work;

Writing an A+ Research Paper: A Roadmap for Beginning and Experienced Writers ,2008 Course-Based Undergraduate Research Nancy H. Hensel,2023-07-03 Co published with the Council on Undergraduate Research Undergraduate research has long been recognized as a high impact practice HIP but has unfortunately been offered only to juniors and seniors and to very few of them often in summer programs This book shows how to engage students in authentic research experiences built into the design of courses in the first two years thus making the experience available to a much greater number of students Research that is embedded in a course especially general education courses addresses the issue of how to expand undergraduate research to all students Research has shown that students who have early experiences in undergraduate research are more likely to pursue further research prior to and after graduation This is also an issue of social justice because it makes the benefits of undergraduate research available to students who must work during the academic year and in the summer It is widely accepted that the skills developed through undergraduate research help prepare students for their future careers The book addresses all aspects of the topic including What are appropriate expectations for research in the first two years How to design appropriate course based research for first and second year students How to mentor a class rather than individual students How students can disseminate the results of their research Possible citizen science projects appropriate for the first and second years Providing additional resources available to support course based research in the first two years Designed for faculty at four year and two year colleges and including examples from the sciences the social sciences and the humanities the strategies and methods described can be adapted to disciplines not specifically mentioned in the book Many faculty are hesitant to engage first and second year students in undergraduate research because they worry students don't know enough to conduct authentic research in their discipline because they worry about the time it will take to develop activities for these students and because they wonder how they can mentor a whole class of students doing research The authors have successfully dealt with these issues and provide examples of how it is done

The International Student's Guide to Writing a Research Paper Janine Carlock, Maeve Eberhardt, Jaime Horst, Peter Kolenich, 2017-06-13 The International Student's Guide to Writing a Research Paper is a reference text for undergraduate students and those in ESL or bridge courses who are writing a research paper for the first time This book is partly an update of Writing a Research Paper by Lionel Menasche 1998 and partly a companion to The ESL Writer's Handbook Each section of the book includes a discrete task called a Building Block which requires students to apply the skills learned toward the development of their own paper This step by step approach allows students to construct knowledge as they become more familiar with the process making writing a research paper a less intimidating task Special features This guide uses simple direct language for those for whom writing a research paper is new Most example writing is from international students in an ESL program or first year writing class including two sample papers one in APA and one in MLA A section on responding to instructor feedback to provide students with the tools to read and understand comments and use them to improve the first draft A subsection dedicated to constructing clear and cohesive paragraphs and sentences The guide includes citation and style examples in MLA 8th edition
