Electronic Record Systems and Individual Privacy, 1986 The Domain of Images James Elkins, 1999 In the domain of visual images those of fine art form a tiny minority This original and brilliant book calls upon art historians to look beyond their traditional subjects painting drawing photography and printmaking to the vast array of nonart images including those from science technology commerce medicine music and archaeology Such images James Elkins asserts can be as rich and expressive as any canonical painting Using scores of illustrations as examples he proposes a radically new way of thinking about visual analysis one that relies on an object s own internal sense of organization Elkins begins by demonstrating the arbitrariness of current criteria used by art historians for selecting images for study He urges scholars to adopt instead the far broader criteria of the young field of image studies After analyzing the philosophic underpinnings of this interdisciplinary field he surveys the entire range of images from calligraphy to mathematical graphs and abstract painting Throughout Elkins blends philosophic analysis with historical detail to produce a startling new sense of such basic terms as pictures writing and notation The NAEP 1997 Arts Report Card Hilary R. Persky, Brent A. Sandene, Janice M. Askew, 1998 The last several years have seen a growing resolve among educators and policymakers to assure the place of a solid arts education in U S schools In 1997 the National Assessment of Educational Progress NAEP conducted a national assessment in the arts at grade 8 The assessment included the areas of music theater and visual arts For each of these arts areas this Report Card describes the achievement of eighth graders within the general population and in various subgroups Taken with the information provided about instructional and institutional variables this report gives a context for evaluating the status of students learning in the arts The arts assessment was designed to measure the content specifications described in the arts framework for NAEP The arts have a unique capacity to integrate intellect emotions and physical skills in the creation of meaning Meaningful arts assessments need to be built around three arts processes creating performing and responding To capture these processes the arts assessment exercises included authentic tasks that assessed students knowledge and skills and constructed response and multiple choice questions that explore students abilities to describe analyze interpret and evaluate works of art in written form Data are reported in overall summaries for creating performing and responding in terms of student and school reported background variables Student results for theater are discussed in terms of teacher reported background variables as well The major findings of the assessment are that a large percentage of grade 8 students attend schools in which music and visual arts were taught usually by specialists most students attended schools in which instruction following district or state curricula was offered in music and visual arts but not in theater or dance and most visual arts and music instruction took place in school facilities that were dedicated to that subject JH Playmaker Thomas Keneally, 1993-10 In Australia in 1787 Lieutenant Ralph Clerk is assigned to direct a play featuring a cast of prisoners he is there to supervise Prophecy and Apocalyptic D. Brent Sandy, Daniel M. O'Hare, 2007-11 A current and accessible guide to the literature on Old Testament prophecy Maya Angelou Mary Jane Lupton, 2016-01-18 This book presents the extraordinary life and writings of Maya Angelou It examines the changing viewpoints in her six autobiographies within the context of women's and African American autobiographies with specific reference to the slave narrative and to contemporary fiction and film Maya Angelou The Iconic Self examines this iconic artist's work as an autobiographer offering an up to date assessment of Angelou's contributions to American literature and to American and international culture This is the only book to interpret Angelou's autobiographies as unique experiments in the history of black narrative It attests to Angelou's creativity in transforming the typical single volume autobiography into a six volume personal and cultural adventure that tells the truth but reads like fiction The narratives cover the years from the Great Depression 1941 to the days following the assassinations of Malcolm X 1965 and Martin Luther King 1968 emphasizing Angelou's roles as mother daughter granddaughter wife and friend This revised edition also presents information about Maya Angelou's funeral and her continuing legacy since her death in 2014 The depth and scope of the book's observations regarding Angelou's autobiographies will be of great interest to readers seeking an analysis of the interconnections among Angelou's writings as well as serve students taking courses in women's studies or black culture studies
