Redefining Adaptation Studies Dennis Cutchins, Laurence Raw, James M. Welsh, 2010-02-23 Since films were first produced adapted works have predominantly borrowed primarily from traditional texts such as novels and plays Likewise the study of film adaptations has also been fairly traditional rarely venturing beyond a comparison of the source material to its often less revered counterpart Redefining Adaptation Studies breaks new ground in showing the range of possibilities that transcend the literature film paradigm These essays focus on the idea of adaptation and what it means in different socio political contexts Above all this collection shows how cultural and political factors determine the meaning of the term and its potential for developing new approaches to learning The contributors to this volume look at adaptation in different contexts and develop new ways to approach adaptation not just as a literature through film issue but as something which can be used to develop other skills such as creative writing and personal and social skills Aimed at teachers in high schools and universities at the under and postgraduate levels this volume not only suggests how adaptation might be used in different disciplines but how it might improve the learning experience for teachers and students alike

The Pedagogy of Adaptation Dennis Cutchins, Laurence Raw, James M. Welsh, 2010-02-23 From All Quiet on the Western Front and Gone with the Wind to No Country for Old Men and Slumdog Millionaire many of the most memorable films have been adapted from other sources And while courses on film studies are taught throughout the world The Pedagogy of Adaptation makes a strong case for treating adaptation studies as a separate discipline What makes this book unique is its claim that adaptation is above all a creative process and not simply a slavish imitation or reproduction of an original This collection of essays focuses on numerous contexts to emphasize why adaptations matter to students of literature It is the first such volume devoted exclusively to teaching adaptations from a practical teacher centered angle Many of the essays show how adaptation as a discipline can be used to prompt reflection on cultural historical and political differences Written by specialists in a variety of fields ranging from film radio theater and even language studies the book adopts a pluralistic view of adaptation showing how its processes vary across different contexts and in different disciplines Defining new horizons for the teaching of adaptation studies these essays draw on such disparate sources as Frankenstein Moby Dick and South Park This volume not only provides a resource book of lesson plans but offers valuable pointers as to why teaching literature and film can help develop students skills and improve their literacy

Fairy Tales as Social Critique in Adaptations by Women Writers Laura Alexander,2025-03-10 This collection considers how women writers subvert normative structures in their adaptations of fairy tales Though fairy tales as a genre have long been associated with conservative values writers like Anne Sexton Angela Carter and Emma Donoghue among others reimagine fairy tales as an instrument of social critique of traditional structures The essays in this collection consider the way women writers rewrite mythologies inherited from the past charting the decline of aristocratic systems and entrenched class structures
