American Authorship and Autobiographical Narrative Jonathan D'Amore, 2012-06-08 This book explores the conflicted relationship writers have with their public image particularly when they have written about their personal lives D Amore analyzes the autobiographical works of Norman Mailer John Edgar Wideman and Dave Eggers in light of theories of authorship autobiography and celebrity

Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction

Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e g the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers

Women Taking Risks in Contemporary Autobiographical Narratives Kenneth Reeds, Anna Rocca, 2013-10-03 Women Taking Risks in Contemporary Autobiographical Narratives explores the nature and effects of risk in self narrative representations of life events and is an early step towards confronting the dearth of analysis on this subject The collection focuses on risk taking as one of women s articulations of authorial agency displayed in literary testimonial photographic travel and film documentary forms of autobiographical expression in French Among many themes the book fosters discussion on matters of courage strength resilience freedom self fulfillment political engagement compassion faith and the envisioning of unconventional alliances that follow a woman s stepping out of her comfort zone The fourteen essays included in this collection discuss works of women authors from North Africa Sub Saharan Africa France and the Caribbean They exemplify a variety of self narratives that blur unified conceptualizations of both identity and national belonging They address questions about women writers attitudes towards risk and their willingness to change the status quo They also explore the many personal and public forms in which agency manifests through risk taking engagements the ways in which women challenge the conventional wisdom about feminine reserve and aversion to danger the multiplicity of seen and unforeseen consequences of risk taking the all too frequent lack of recognition of female courage the overcoming of obstacles by taking risks and frequently the amelioration of women's lives Addressing both the broader context of the study of risk and the more specific areas of female expression and autobiography in Francophone cultures this collection is attractive to a diverse audience with the potential to cross disciplines and inform a wide body of research A number of the essays deal with issues born in postcolonial circumstances This examination of the elucidation of marginalized voices should prove enlightening to an array of scholars researching specific ethnic sexual gender and general subjects related to identity In making inroads towards expanding the well developed area of risk studies into the humanities this collection makes an important contribution that has the potential to promote a variety of cross disciplinary research including examinations of the psychology and sociology behind chauvinism personal expression and formative experiences

Mina Loy's Critical Modernism Laura Scuriatti, 2019-04-22 This volume argues that Loy's corpus of works produces a kind of critical modernism the author makes the case that Loy's corpus exhibits a skeptical detached attitude towards its own simultaneous celebration and criticism of modernist aesthetic paradigms The author provides a new in depth investigation of specific aspects of the Florentine and Italian context in particular which have so far been neglected by scholarship The volume presents new insights into Loy's feminism and argues that her texts respond to the rewriting of Otto Weininger's then widely influential theories in the magazine Lacerba It shows that Loy's texts present dialogic narratable eccentric selves and subjectivities which create uncomfortable critical spaces within modernism as a broad movement

International Teacher

Education Cheryl J. Craig, Lily Orland-Barak, 2014-12-02 The book fills a gaping hole in the teacher education literature. Nowhere is there a volume that globally surveys teacher education pedagogies and invites international scholars to describe the most productive ones in their home countries.

Rewriting Texts Remaking Images Leslie Anne Boldt-Irons, Corrado Federici, Ernesto Virgulti, 2010 The twenty-four essays in Rewriting Texts Remaking Images: Interdisciplinary Perspectives examine the complex relationships between original creative works and subsequent versions of these originals from both theoretical and pragmatic perspectives. The process involves the rereading, reinterpretation, and rediscovery of literary texts, paintings, photographs, and films, as well as the consideration of issues pertaining to adaptation, intertextuality, transcodification, ekphrasis, parody, translation, and revision. The interdisciplinary analyses consider works from classical antiquity to the present day in a number of literatures and include such topics as the reuse and resemantization of photographs and iconic images.

The Oxford History of the Novel in English Simon Gikandi, 2016-09-05 Why did the novel take such a long time to emerge in the colonial world? And what cultural work did it come to perform in societies where subjects were not free and modes of social organization diverged from the European cultural centers where the novel gained its form and audience? Answering these questions and more, Volume 11, The Novel in Africa and the Caribbean since 1950, explores the institutions of cultural production that exerted influence in late colonialism, from missionary schools and metropolitan publishers to universities and small presses. How these structures provoke and respond to the literary trends and social peculiarities of Africa and the Caribbean impacts not only the writing and reading of novels in those regions but also has a transformative effect on the novel as a global phenomenon. Together, the volume's 32 contributing experts tell a story about the close relationship between the novel and the project of decolonization and explore the multiple ways in which novels enable readers to imagine communities beyond their own and thus made this form of literature a compelling catalyst for cultural transformation. The authors show that even as the novel grows in Africa and the Caribbean as a mark of the elites' mastery of European form, it becomes the essential instrument for critiquing colonialism and for articulating the new horizons of cultural nationalism. Within this historical context, the volume examines works by authors such as Chinua Achebe, Nadine Gordimer, George Lamming, Jamaica Kincaid, V. S. Naipaul, Zoe Wicomb, J. M. Coetzee, and many others.

Reading Autobiography Now Sidonie Smith, Julia Watson, 2024-07-09 A user-friendly guide to reading, writing, and theorizing autobiographical texts and practices for students, scholars, and practitioners of life narrative. The boom in autobiographical narratives continues apace. It now encompasses a global spectrum of texts and practices in such media as graphic memoir, auto photography, performance, and plastic arts, film, and video, and online platforms. Reading Autobiography Now offers both a critical engagement with life narrative in historical perspective and a theoretical framework for interpreting texts and practices in this wide-ranging field. Hailed upon its initial publication as the Whole Earth Catalog of autobiography studies, this essential book has been updated, reorganized, and expanded in scope to serve as an accessible and contemporary guide.

for scholars students and practitioners Sidonie Smith and Julia Watson explore definitions of life narrative probe issues of subjectivity and outline salient features of autobiographical acts and practices In this updated edition they address emergent topics such as autotheory autofiction and autoethnography expand the discussions of identity relationality and agency and introduce new material on autobiographical archives and the profusion of I s in contemporary works Smith and Watson also provide a helpful toolkit of strategies for reading life narrative and an extensive glossary of mini essays analyzing key theoretical concepts and dozens of autobiographical genres An indispensable exploration of this expansive transnational multimedia field Reading Autobiography Now meticulously unpacks the heterogeneous modes of life narratives through which people tell their stories from traditional memoirs and trauma narratives to collaborative life narrative and autobiographical comics Writing Biography in Greece and Rome Koen De Temmerman, Kristoffel Demoen, 2016-05-10

Ancient biography is now a well established and popular field of study among classicists as well as many scholars of literature and history more generally In particular biographies offer important insights into the dynamics underlying ancient performance of the self and social behaviour issues currently of crucial importance in classical studies They also raise complex issues of narrativity and fictionalization This volume examines a range of ancient texts which are or purport to be biographical and explores how formal narrative categories such as time space and character are constructed and how they address highlight question thematize underscore or problematize the borderline between historicity and fictionality In doing so it makes a major contribution not only to the study of ancient biographical writing but also to broader narratological approaches to ancient texts Modernity and Autobiography in Nineteenth-Century America James E. Dobson, 2017-09-14

This book examines temporal and formal disruptions found in American autobiographical narratives produced during the end of the nineteenth century It argues that disruptions were primarily the result of encounters with new communication and transportation technologies Through readings of major autobiographical works of the period James E Dobson argues that the range of affective responses to writing communicating and traveling at increasing speed and distance were registered in this literature s formal innovation These autobiographical works Dobson claims complicate our understanding of the lived experience of time temporality and existing accounts of periodization This study first examines the competing views of space and time in the nineteenth century and then moves to examine how high speed train travel altered American literary regionalism the region and history Later chapters examine two narratives of failed homecoming that are deeply ambivalent about modernity and technology Henry James s The American Scene and Theodore Dreiser s A Hoosier Holiday before a reading of the telephone network as a metaphor for historiography and autobiography in Henry Adams s The Education of Henry Adams Identity-Focused ELA Teaching Richard Beach, Anthony Johnston, Amanda Haertling Thein, 2015-03-05

Countering the increased standardization of English language arts instruction requires recognizing and fostering students unique identity construction across different social and cultural contexts Drawing on current sociocultural theories of identity construction this book posits that students construct multiple identities through use of five identity practices adopting alternative perspectives exploring connections across people and texts negotiating identities across social worlds developing agency through critical analysis and reflecting on long term identity trajectories Identity Focused ELA Teaching features classroom activities teachers can use to put these practices into action in ways that re center implementing the Common Core State Standards case study profiles of students and classrooms from urban suburban and rural schools adopting these practices and descriptions of how teachers both support students with this instructional approach and share their own identity construction experiences with their students It demonstrates how as students acquire identity focused practices through engagements with literature writing drama and digital texts they gain awareness of the ways exposure to different narratives beliefs and perspectives serves to mediate their own and others identities leading to different ways of being and becoming over time

Teaching to Exceed the English Language Arts Common Core State Standards Richard Beach, Allen Webb, Amanda Haertling Thein, 2015-12-07 Timely thoughtful and comprehensive this text directly supports pre service and in service teachers in developing curriculum and instruction that both addresses and exceeds the requirements of the Common Core State Standards Adopting a critical inquiry approach it demonstrates how the Standards highest and best intentions for student success can be implemented from a critical culturally relevant perspective firmly grounded in current literacy learning theory and research It provides specific examples of teachers using the critical inquiry curriculum framework of identifying problems and issues adopting alternative perspectives and entertaining change in their classrooms to illustrate how the Standards can not only be addressed but also surpassed through engaging instruction The Second Edition provides new material on adopting a critical inquiry approach to enhance student engagement and critical thinking planning instruction to effectively implement the CCSS in the classroom fostering critical response to literary and informational texts using YA literature and literature by authors of color integrating drama activities into literature and speaking listening instruction teaching informational explanatory argumentative and narrative writing working with ELL students to address the language Standards using digital tools and apps to respond to and create digital texts employing formative assessment to provide supportive feedback preparing students for the PARCC and Smarter Balanced assessments using the book s wiki site <http://englishccss.pbworks.com> for further resources

Mind, Brain and Narrative Anthony J. Sanford, Catherine Emmott, 2012-12-20 Narratives enable readers to vividly experience fictional and non fictional contexts Writers use a variety of language features to control these experiences they direct readers in how to construct contexts how to draw inferences and how to identify the key parts of a story Writers can skilfully convey physical sensations prompt emotional states effect moral responses and even alter the readers attitudes Mind Brain and Narrative examines the psychological and neuroscientific evidence for the mechanisms which underlie narrative comprehension The authors explore the scientific developments which demonstrate the importance of attention counterfactuals depth of processing perspective and embodiment in these processes In so doing this timely interdisciplinary work provides an integrated account of the research which links psychological mechanisms of language comprehension to humanities work on narrative and style
