Vygotsky and Education Luis C. Moll,1990-11-30 The seminal work of Russian theorist Lev Vygotsky 1896 1934 has exerted a deep influence on psychology over the past 30 years Vygotsky was an educator turned psychologist and his writings clearly reflected his pedagogical concerns For Vygotsky schools and other informal educational situations represent the best cultural laboratories to study thinking He emphasized the social organization of instruction writing about the unique form of cooperation between the child and the adult that is the central element of the educational process

Vygotsky's emphasis on the social context of thinking represents the reorganization of a key social system and associated modes of discourse with potential consequences for developing new forms of thinking. This volume is devoted to analyzing Vygotsky's ideas as a means of bringing to light the relevance of his concepts to education. What does Vygotsky's approach have to offer education? Distinguished scholars from various countries and representing several disciplines discuss the essence and significance of Vygotsky's work, analyze the educational implications of his thoughts and present applications in practice addressing educational issues such as school organization, teacher training, educational achievement, literacy, learning and development, uses of technology, community-based education and special education.

Communicative Competence, Classroom Interaction, and Educational Equity Courtney B. Cazden, 2017-11-28. In the World Library of Educationalists series, international scholars themselves compile career-long collections of what they judge to be their finest pieces, extracts from books, key articles, salient research findings, major theoretical and/or practical contributions, so the world can read them in a single manageable volume. Readers thus are able to follow the themes and strands of their work and see their contribution to the development of a field as well as the development of the field itself. Contributors to the series include Michael Apple, James A. Banks, Joel Spring, William F. Pinar, Stephen J. Ball, Elliot Eisner, Howard Gardner, John Gilbert, Ivor F. Goodson, and Peter Jarvis. In this volume, Courtney B. Cazden, renowned educational sociolinguist, brings together a selection of her seminal work organized around three themes: development of individual communicative competence in both oral and written language and discourse; classroom interaction in learning and teaching; and social justice/educational equity issues in wider contexts beyond the classroom. Since the 1970s, Cazden has been a key figure in the ethnography of schooling, focusing on children's linguistic development, both oral and written, and the functions of language in formal education, primarily but not exclusively in the United States. Combining her experiences as a former primary schoolteacher with the insight and methodological rigor of a trained ethnographer and linguist, Cazden helped to establish ethnography and discourse analysis as central methodologies for analyzing classroom interaction. This capstone volume highlights her major contributions to the field.

Using Talk to Support Writing Ros Fisher, Susan Jones, Shirley Larkin, Debra Myhill, 2010-04-22. Using Talk to Support Writing presents a new and innovative approach to the teaching of early writing. The authors discuss both theoretical and practical issues around using talk in the classroom to support children as they learn to write. Set within the context of national concern for achievement in the development of writing ability, it addresses the gap in understanding early teaching and focuses on the exploration of how talk and writing interface. This includes numerous examples of teaching and activities for using talk to support writing. Using extensive data from classrooms, video and audio recordings, and transcripts of children's talk, it explores three aspects of talk when used to support writing: talk for idea generation, talk for oral rehearsal, and talk for reflection. This book is for students on Primary ITT courses, particularly for
