New Topological Invariants For Real- And Angle-valued Maps: An Alternative To Morse-Novikov Theory Dan Burghelea, 2017-08-16 This book is about new topological invariants of real and angle valued maps inspired by Morse Novikov theory a chapter of topology which has recently raised interest outside of mathematics for example in data analysis shape recognition computer science and physics They are the backbone of what the author proposes as a computational alternative to Morse Novikov theory referred to in this book as

AMN theory These invariants are on one side analogues of rest points instantons and closed trajectories of vector fields and on the other side refine basic topological invariants like homology and monodromy They are associated to tame maps considerably more general than Morse maps that are defined on spaces which are considerably more general than manifolds They are computable by computer implementable algorithms and have strong robustness properties They relate the dynamics of flows that admit the map as Lyapunov map to the topology of the underlying space in a similar manner as Morse Novikov theory does

New Directions in the Anthropology of Dreaming Jeannette Mageo, Robin E. Sheriff, 2020-10-08 This book presents new directions in contemporary anthropological dream research surveying recent theorizations of dreaming that are developing both in and outside of anthropology It incorporates new findings in neuroscience and philosophy of mind while demonstrating that dreams emerge from and comment on sociohistorical and cultural contexts The chapters are written by prominent anthropologists working at the intersection of culture and consciousness who conduct ethnographic research in a variety of settings around the world and reflect how dreaming is investigated by a range of informants in ever more diverse sites As well as theorizing the dream in light of current anthropological and psychological research the volume accounts for local dream theories and how they are situated within distinct cultural ontologies It considers dreams as a resource for investigating and understanding cultural change dreaming as a mode of thinking through contesting altering consolidating or escaping from identity and the nature of dream mentation In proposing new theoretical approaches to dreaming the editors situate the topic within the recent call for an anthropology of the night and illustrate how dreams offer insight into current debates within anthropology's mainstream This up to date book defines a twenty first century approach to culture and the dream that will be relevant to scholars from anthropology as well as other disciplines such as religious studies the neurosciences and psychology
