War Babies English Edition:

Bringing Up War-Babies Amanda Jones, 2018-08-06 The figure of the wartime child in the mid twentieth century unsettles and disturbs This book employs a range of material biographical literary and historical to chart some of the surprising and unanticipated crossovers between women's writing and early psychoanalysis in the years of the Second World War and the decades before and after This volume includes examples of children's adventure fiction as well as works written for adult audiences and important and previously unrecognized similarities are noted The war was a disruptive influence in the lives of all who lived through it Although active self censorship is observed in the behaviour and attitudes of adults at this time this book demonstrates how fictional children are able to articulate feelings such as anxiety and fear that adults were under pressure to conceal or to repress and at times the figure of the wartime child becomes a surrogate for the writer herself or her suppressed fears and anxiety When peace returned this study finds women writers quick to identify and communicate a discomfiting new ambivalence between parents and children The Woman and the War Baby Bill Ransom, 2008 The Oxford Handbook of British and Irish War Poetry Tim Kendall, 2007-02-22 Thirty seven chapters written by leading literary critics from across the world describe the latest thinking about twentieth century war poetry The book maps both the uniqueness of each war and the continuities between poets of different wars while the interconnections between the literatures of war and peacetime and between combatant and civilian poets are fully considered The focus is on Britain and Ireland but links are drawn with the poetry of the United States and continental Europe The Oxford Handbook feeds a growing interest in war poetry and offers in toto a definitive survey of the terrain It is intended for a broad audience made up of specialists and also graduates and undergraduates and is an essential resource for both scholars of particular poets and for those interested in wider debates about modern poetry This scholarly and readable assessment of the field will provide an important point of reference for decades to come Change and Challenge, My Life After Thirty Joan Lorch Staple, 2009-07-23 Change and Challenge My Life After Thirty is the sequel of Chance and Choice My First Thirty Years 2007 It describes the birth of the author's two sons in the 1950s and the change from her life as a London research biologist to motherhood in rural England After emigrating to Birmingham Alabama Joan faced the challenge of raising her sons in a segregated society In 1963 the Staple family moved to Buffalo NY here Joan resumed her research which involved the creation of living amoebas as well as witnessing the evolution of a new amoeba strain Coping with teenagers in the Sixties and starting her teaching career at a Jesuit college complete the story Adoption, Memory, and Cold War Greece Gonda Van Steen, 2021-07-12 Reveals the history of how 3 000 Greek children were shipped to the United States for adoption in the postwar period Children's Catalog, 1909 Journal of Ethnic Microhistory Walther Dr. Friesen, 2025-01-28 There are six publications in issue 9 III 2024 of Journal of Ethnic Microhistory 1 Ursula Dorn the author of the biographical novel I was a Wolf Kid from K nigsberg original title in German Ich war ein Wolfskind aus K nigsberg has written the appeal their children could finally know of a father's identity and the life he had led after the war. Just one would be able to find an embrace in his arms and just one would arrive at her father's American grave after 73 years. But they could now understand their own Dutch lives in the context of their fathers' lives in America. Bureau publication (United States. Children's Bureau). no. 76, 1921, 1921 Bulletin of State Institutions, 1922 Prizing Children's Literature Kenneth B. Kidd, Joseph T. Thomas Jr., 2016-11-10. Children's book awards have mushroomed since the early twentieth century and especially since the 1960s when literary prizing became a favored strategy for both commercial promotion and canon making. There are over 300 awards for English language titles alone but despite the profound impact of children's book awards, scholars have paid relatively little attention to them. This book is the first scholarly volume devoted to the analysis of Anglophone children's book awards in historical and cultural context. With attention to both political and aesthetic concerns, the book offers original and diverse scholarship on prizing practices and their consequences in Australia, Canada, and especially the United States. Contributors offer both case studies of particular awards and analysis of broader trends in literary evaluation and elevation, drawing on theoretical work on canonization and cultural capital. Sections interrogate the complex and often unconscious ideological work of prizing, the ongoing tension between formalist awards and so-called identity-based awards, all the more urgent in light of the We Need Diverse Books campaign, the ever-morphing forms and parameters of prizing, and scholarly practices of prizing. Among the many awards discussed are the Pura Belpré Medal, the Inky Awards, the Canada Governor General Literary Award, the Printz Award, the Best Animated Feature Oscar, the Phoenix Award, and the John Newbery Medal, giving due attention to prizes for fiction as well as for non-fiction, poetry, and film. This volume will interest scholars in literary and cultural studies, social history, book history, sociology, education, library and information science, and anyone concerned with children's literature.
