Buffett Roger Lowenstein, 2013-07-24 Since its hardcover publication in August of 1995, Buffett has appeared on the Wall Street Journal, New York Times, San Francisco Chronicle, Los Angeles Times, Seattle Times, Newsday, and Business Week bestseller lists. Starting from scratch simply by picking stocks and companies for investment, Warren Buffett amassed one of the epochal fortunes of the twentieth century, an astounding net worth of 10 billion and counting. His awesome investment record has made him a cult figure, popularly known for his seeming contradictions: a billionaire who has a modest lifestyle, a phenomenally successful investor who eschews the revolving door trading of modern Wall Street, a brilliant dealmaker who cultivates a homespun aura. Journalist Roger Lowenstein draws on three years of unprecedented access to Buffett's family, friends, and colleagues to provide the first definitive inside account of the life and career of this American original. Buffett explains Buffett's investment strategy, a long-term philosophy grounded in buying stock in companies that are undervalued on the market and hanging on until their worth invariably surfaces, and shows how it is a reflection of his inner self. Warren Buffett Daniel Jones, 2018-02-17 Warren Buffett was born on August 30, 1930, to Howard and Leila Buffett in Omaha, Nebraska. Warren came from a prestigious line of Buffetts that had resided in Omaha for seven consecutive generations. Warren's grandfather operated a grocery store starting in 1869, and Warren's father dabbled in stocks. Because Howard Buffett was a stockbroker and congressman, Warren was saturated with financial knowledge and terms from a young age. A stay-at-home mom, Leila provided two siblings for Buffett; both were girls. Many friends of Warren fondly recall his ability to compute huge columns of numbers with only his mind. Coupling this with Warren's home environment, family, and friends knew it was only a matter of time before Warren would delve into the world of financial risk and success. Warren exhibited his entrepreneurial prowess at the age of six when he bought six cartons of Coca-Cola from his grandpa at the price of twenty-five cents apiece and promptly sold the individual bottles for five cents, making a five-cent profit on every carton. As the world encouraged children to play on the playground or to go have fun, Warren busied himself in making money and testing the murky waters of risk Warren's life took a dramatic turn when he was five however After his father came home one night and announced to the family that the bank where he was employed was closing Warren's family became very poor The infamous Great Depression had snaked its way to Nebraska devastating anything in its path Warren's grandfather helped Warren's father out by sending him money each month but it was a while before Howard was employed again
