Washington State School Report Cards:

Organizational Report Cards William T. Gormley Jr., David L. Weimer, 1999-03 In recent years consumers professional organizations government officials and third party payers have become increasingly concerned about how to assess the quality of the services provided by organizations in both the private and the public sectors One new approach is the organizational report card which compares the performance of organizations such as public schools colleges hospitals and HMOs This book offers the first comprehensive study of such instruments It discusses the circumstances under which they are desirable alternatives to other policy instruments such as regulation how they should be designed who is likely to use them and for what purpose and what role if any government should have in their creation Informed by cases drawn from education health and other policy areas this book develops a conceptual framework for analyzing these issues It explores the tradeoffs in measuring performance the methods of communicating results effectively to mass and elite audiences and the ways in which organizations respond to the data gathered

Charter School Report Card Shawgi Tell, 2016-04-01 What is a charter school Where do they come from Who promotes them and why What are they supposed to do Are they the silver bullet to the ills plaguing the American public education system This book provides a comprehensive and accessible overview and analysis of charter schools and their many dimensions It shows that charter schools as a whole lower the quality of education through the privatization and marketization of education The final chapter provides readers with a way toward rethinking and remaking education in a way that is consistent with modern requirements Society and its members need a fully funded high quality public education system open to all and controlled by a public authority

Educating Milwaukee James K. Nelsen, 2015-11-17 Milwaukee's story is unique in that its struggle for integration and quality education has been so closely tied to school choice from the Introduction Educating Milwaukee How One City's History of Segregation and Struggle Shaped Its Schools traces the origins of the modern school choice movement which is growing in strength throughout the United States Author James K Nelsen follows Milwaukee's tumultuous education history through three eras no choice forced choice and school choice Nelsen details the whole story of Milwaukee's choice movement through to modern times when Milwaukee families have more schooling options than ever charter schools open enrollment state funded vouchers neighborhood schools and yet Milwaukee's impoverished African American students still struggle to succeed and stay in school Educating Milwaukee chronicles how competing visions of equity and excellence have played out in one city's schools in the modern era offering both a cautionary tale and a choice example

School Health Services Bronson Price, United States. Children's Bureau, 1957 Childhoods Gaile Sloan Cannella, Lourdes Diaz Soto, 2010

For the past 20 years a range of scholars educators and cultural workers have examined dominant discourses of childhood using critical feminist and other postmodern perspectives Located in a variety of disciplines these poststructural deconstructive and even postcolonial critiques have challenged everything from notions of the universal child to adult child dualisms to deterministic developmental theory The purpose of this volume is to acknowledge the profound contributions of that large body of literature while demonstrating the ways that critical analyses can be used to generate avenues actions that increase possibilities for social justice for those who are younger while at the same time avoiding determinism In this time of globalization hyper capitalism and discourses that would control and disqualify through constructions like accountability we believe that projects such as this are of utmost importance The volume is divided into four major sections to reflect the multiplicity of human voices and perspectives section I contemporary circumstances and dominant discourses within which we all attempt to function sections II and III and the generation of new possibilities for constructing relationships together section IV Finally a voice from the heart within a reconceptualist social science agenda for early childhood studies is presented
