James H. Thompson (1866–1920) was a prominent African American leader and a key figure in the early 20th-century civil rights movement. He was a member of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and played a significant role in the organization's early efforts to combat racial discrimination and segregation. Thompson was also a vocal advocate for the rights of African Americans and worked to improve their social and economic conditions.
