GPS: Finding Direction on Your Faith and

Life Journey John Strommen, 2024-07-31 What's the point of it all? In the postmodern world, the meaning and direction of human existence is increasingly a question mark with few satisfying answers forthcoming. People of faith are not immune to such questions as they struggle to meaningfully connect their faith to their daily lives. In GPS Finding Direction on Your Faith and Life Journey, Strommen makes the case that much of this existential struggle is born of an anthropocentric worldview that has banished God to the margins, leaving humans with the futile task of playing God as they attempt to create their own meaning, purpose, and identity. Drawing on core Christian understandings through a Lutheran lens, the author asserts that life-giving meaning and purpose are gifts given by God alone, who frees people from their self-justifying ways to take an inventory of their many gifts and participate in a new creation where love of neighbor is the social currency. It is the core theme of this book that God is, in fact, present, deeply invested, and at work in the everyday world, calling everyone daily to partner with God to co-create a more trustworthy, loving, and hopeful world.

Spinoza on Reason, Passions, and the Supreme Good Andrea Sangiacomo, 2019 Andrea Sangiacomo offers a new understanding of Spinoza's moral philosophy: how his views significantly evolved over time and how he himself struggled during his career to develop a theory that could speak to human beings as they actually are: imperfect, passionate, and often not very rational.

Dutch Cartesianism and the Birth of Philosophy of Science Andrea Strazzoni, 2018-11-19 How did the relations between philosophy and science evolve during the 17th and the 18th century? This book analyzes this issue by considering the history of Cartesianism in Dutch universities as well as its legacy in the 18th century. It takes into account the ways in which the disciplines of logic and metaphysics became functional to the justification and reflection on the conceptual premises and the methods of natural philosophy, changing their traditional roles as art of reasoning and as science of being. This transformation took place as a result of two factors. First, logic and metaphysics, which included rational theology, were used to grant the status of indubitable knowledge of natural philosophy. Second, the debates internal to Cartesianism as well as the emergence of alternative philosophical world views, such as those of Hobbes, Spinoza, the experimental science, and Newtonianism, progressively deprived such disciplines of their foundational function, and they started to become forms of reflection over given scientific practices, either Cartesian, experimental, or Newtonian.

The Journey to Greatness Noah BenShea, 2005-11 The author encourages lifelong learning while providing inspirational messages and life-changing lessons that will make the work of getting to greatness a labor of love.

Personal ~ Passionate ~ Participatory Ming Fang He, JoAnn Phillion, 2008-11-01 Scope of the Book Personal, Passionate, Participatory Inquiry into Social Justice in Education: the first book in the series features 14 programs of social justice-oriented research on life in schools, families, and communities. This work, done by a diverse group of practitioner-researchers, educators, and scholars, connects the personal with the political, the theoretical with the practical, and research with social and educational change. These inquiries demonstrate three distinct qualities. Each is personal, compelled by values and experiences researchers bring to the work. Each is passionate, grounded in a commitment to social justice concerns of people and places under consideration Each is participatory built on long term heart felt engagement and shared efforts The principle aspect of the inquiries featured in the book series that distinguish it from others is that researchers are not detached observers nor putatively objective recorders but active participants in schools families and communities Researchers have explicit research agendas that focus on equity equality and social justice Rather than aiming solely at traditional educational research outcomes positive social and educational change is the focal outcome of inquiry The researchers are diverse and their inquiries are far ranging in terms of content people and geographic locations studied These studies reflect new and exciting ways of researching and representing experience of the disenfranchised underrepresented and invisible groups seldom discussed in the literature and challenge stereotypical or deficit oriented perspectives on these groups This book informs pre service and in service teachers educators educational researchers administrators and educational policy makers particularly those who advocate for people who are marginalized and those who are committed to the enactment of social justice and positive educational and social change Bible of the Light Sorin Cerin,2011-02-12

The Passionate Bride Alan Davey, Elizabeth Davey, 2019-03-25 St Paul's Letter to the Ephesians is a bold declaration of love We were in the ruminations of Abba before the stardust formed into galaxies and the earth coalesced into its present shape Indeed Abba's dream for his people already existed in those primordial days Today we have the opportunity to wake up and embrace his dream with enthusiasm and intentionality As members of his church individually and collectively we want to embrace God's desire for a dynamic people infused with his passionate love The church as the bride of Christ is a powerful metaphor engaging the apostle as he writes his letter Paul's passion becomes ours as we meditate on his words which evoke spiritual desire It is in this relationship of love that the central purpose of our lives is found As we gratefully receive Christ's amity and as his bride returns it so the entire earth is enflamed with the fires of his love At the same time we recognize it is a mystery this love between Abba and his church When we receive and reflect Christ's overtures of love as a community of faith a synergy is created and released through the interconnectedness of our gifts talents and zeal The church contains the spiritual energy of a nuclear explosion and when it detonates it releases a fallout of love mercy and compassion bringing healing to the world and drawing others to the divine presence

Freudian Passions Jan Campbell, 2018-05-08 Freud's thinking about the unconscious has always been seen to be more about representations than affects When it came to the passions of the transference and the demands of his hysterical patients Freud was always more interested wanted to move the focus away from the transference and onto dreams Hidden wishes more than manifest ones were what captured his imagination and style This book returns to the repressed theory of passions in Freud's own thinking arguing that the repression fixation and rhythmic movement of affects make up the roots and branches of psychoanalytic thinking We can think of Freud's unconscious affects as a tree with the most passionate and primitive affects that make up the core of our psychic life moving and branching out into more elaborated emotions and representations So what moves this tree the house of our first passions How we move the tree of our affects or leave it is integral to Freud's understanding of sexuality and the Oedipal Complex
