Storytime Lawrence R. Sipe,2008 Presents a comprehensive theoretically grounded model of children s understanding of picture storybooks the first to focus specifically on young children Relevant to contemporary young children from a wide variety of ethnic racial and socioeconomic backgrounds this dynamic volume includes a wealth of examples of children's responses to literature and how teachers scaffold their interpretation of stories The highest recommendation I can make is that I learned so much You will too From the Foreword by P David Pearson University of California Berkeley The single most important book on this topic since Applebee's The Child's Concept of Story it is also a pleasure to read Lee Galda University of Minnesota Sipe provides a comprehensive theory of literary understanding specific to contemporary young children's interactions with picture books Storytime is grounded in well documented research an in depth knowledge of literary theory and enlivened by insightful commentary Glenna Sloan Professor Emerita Queens College of the City University of New York As a working illustrator who spends most days drawing or painting or dreaming about children's picturebooks I sometimes wonder Is there really any point to all of this In this book Larry Sipe shows me clearly wittily and thoroughly that there is Chris Raschka Caldecott Medal winning children's book author and illustrator Those of us who work with children picturebooks and teachers could have no more insightful guide to their interactions than Larry Sipe himself Nancy L Roser University of Texas Austin

Speech Is My Hammer Max A. Hunter, 2022-09-30 With Speech Is My Hammer Max Hunter draws on memoir and his own biography to call his readers to reimagine the meaning and power in literacy Defining literacy as a spectrum of skills abilities attainments and performances Hunter focuses on dispelling literacy myths and discussing how Black male artists entertainers professors and writers have described their own literacy narratives in self conscious ambivalent terms Beginning with Frederick Douglass's My Bondage My Freedom W E B Dubois's Soul of Black Folks and Langston Hughes's Harlem Renaissance memoir The Big Sea Hunter conducts a literary inquiry that unearths their double consciousness and literacy ambivalence He moves on to reveal that for many contemporary Black men the arc of ambivalence rises even higher and becomes more complex following the civil rights and the Black Power movements and then sweeping sharply upward once again during the War on Drugs Hunter provides rich illustrations and probing theses that complicate our commonsense reflections on their concealed angst regarding Black authenticity respectability politics and masculinity Speech Is My Hammer moves the reader beyond considering literacy in normative terms to perceive its potential to facilitate transformative conversations among Black males

The Girl with the Brown Crayon Vivian Gussin PALEY, Vivian Gussin Paley, 2009-06-30 Once again Vivian Paley takes us into the inquiring minds and the dramatic worlds of young children learning in the kindergarten classroom As she enters her final year of teaching Paley tells in this book a story of farewell and a story of self discovery through the thoughts and blossoming spirit of Reeny a little girl with a fondness for the color brown and an astonishing sense of herself This brown girl dancing is me Reeny announces as her crayoned figures flit across the classroom walls Soon enough we are drawn into Reeny's remarkable dance of self revelation and celebration and into the literary turn it takes when Reeny discovers a kindred spirit in Leo Lionni a writer of books and a teller of tales Led by Reeny Paley takes us on a tour through the landscape of characters created by Lionni These characters come to dominate a whole year of discussion and debate as the children argue the virtues and weaknesses of Lionni's creations and his themes of self definition and an individual's place in the community The Girl with the Brown Crayon tells a simple personal story of a teacher and a child interweaving the themes of race identity gender and the essential human needs to create and to belong With characteristic charm and wonder Paley discovers how the unexplored territory unfolding before her and Reeny comes to mark the very essence of school a common core of reference something to ponder deeply and expand on extravagantly
