Public Values Leadership Barry Bozeman, Michael M. Crow, 2021-10-12 Instead of private gain or corporate profits what if we set public values as the goal of leadership Leadership means many things and takes many forms But most studies of the topic give little attention to why people lead or to where they are leading us In Public Values Leadership Barry Bozeman and Michael M Crow explore leadership that serves public values that is to say values that are focused on the collective good and fundamental rights rather than profit organizational benefit or personal gain While nearly everyone agrees on core public values there is less agreement on how to obtain them especially during this era of increased social and political fragmentation How does public values leadership differ from other types of organizational leadership and what distinctive skills does it require Drawing on their extensive experience as higher education leaders Bozeman and Crow wrestle with the question of how to best attain universally agreed upon public values like freedom opportunity health and security They present conversations and interviews with ten well known leaders people who have achieved public values objectives and who are willing to discuss their leadership styles in detail They also offer a series of in depth case studies of public values leadership and accomplishment Public values leadership can only succeed if it includes a commitment to pragmatism a deep skepticism about government versus market stereotypes and a genuine belief in the fundamental importance of partnerships and alliances Arguing for a mutable leadership they suggest that different people are leaders at different times and that ideas about natural leaders or all purpose leaders are off the mark Motivating readers including students of public policy administration and practitioners in public and nonprofit organizations to think systematically about their own values and how these can be translated into effective leadership Public Values Leadership is highly personal and persuasive

Founders, Keepers Richard Hagberg, Tien Tzuo, 2025-06-17 Based on decades of empirical research and data Founders Keepers gives founders a practical roadmap for navigating the inevitable challenges that come with startup growth

It's a brutal paradox: the same founder attributes required to put a startup in motion will invariably blow it up. The difference between success and failure lies in the personal journey that every founder must pursue to avoid their own worst impulses. Steeped in nearly forty years of research in leadership psychology, Founders Keepers begins with the same personality assessment. Rich Hagberg, a psychologist and executive management coach, gives his clients Hagberg and Tien Tzuo, founder and CEO of Zuora, help founders build a Swiss Army knife of practical tools that will give them a much better chance of making it to the next level of success. A guide for founders, investors, and academics alike, the result of a decade-long collaboration between a successful CEO and Silicon Valley's CEO Whisperer offers readers insights into the differentiators between successful and unsuccessful founders. The three pillars of leadership that every founder needs to be successful. The essential skills founders need to master to be successful over the long haul. An examination of the common personality traits that lead founders to make fatally flawed decisions. What makes founders tick, including the default tendencies and leadership styles that often undermine their success. How founders frustrate their investors, partners, and employees. Founders may not be able to account for all the complexities of their companies, but they can account for themselves. It's a difficult but unavoidable truth: to grow your startup, you have to grow as a person. And that's where Founders Keepers comes in.

Selling Sustainability Short? Janina Grabs, 2020-05-14. Can private standards bring about more sustainable production practices? This question is of interest to conscientious consumers, academics studying the effectiveness of private regulation, and corporate social responsibility practitioners alike. Grabs provides an answer by combining an impact evaluation of 1,900 farmers with rich qualitative evidence from the coffee sectors of Honduras, Colombia, and Costa Rica. Identifying an institutional design dilemma that private sustainability standards encounter as they scale up, this book shows how this dilemma plays out in the coffee industry. It highlights how the erosion of price premiums and the adaptation to buyers' preferences have curtailed standards' effectiveness in promoting sustainable practices that create economic opportunity costs for farmers, such as agroforestry or agroecology. It also provides a voice for coffee producers and value chain members to explain why the current system is failing in its mission to provide environmental, social, and economic co-benefits and what changes are necessary to do better. Management Eighth Edition Paperback, Custom Publication Griffin, Terry, Miriam Griffin, 2004-06.

Semiotics of Drink and Drinking Paul Manning, 2012-05-17. Drink as an embodied semiotic and material form mediates social life. This book examines the fundamental nature of drink through a series of modular but connected ethnographic discussions. It looks at the way the materiality of a specific drink—coffee, wine, water, beer—serves as the semiotic medium for a genre of sociability in a specific time and place. As an explicitly comparative semiotic study, the book uses familiar and unfamiliar case studies to show how drinks with similar material properties are semiotically organized into very different drinking practices, including ethnographic examples as diverse as the relation of coffee to talk in ordering at Starbucks. Further chapters look at the dryness of gin in relation to the modern cocktail party and the embedding of beer brands in the ethnographic imagination of the nation Rather than treat drinks as mere props in the exclusively human drama of the social the book promotes them to actors on the stage      Management Ricky W.
