

T-65 X-WING

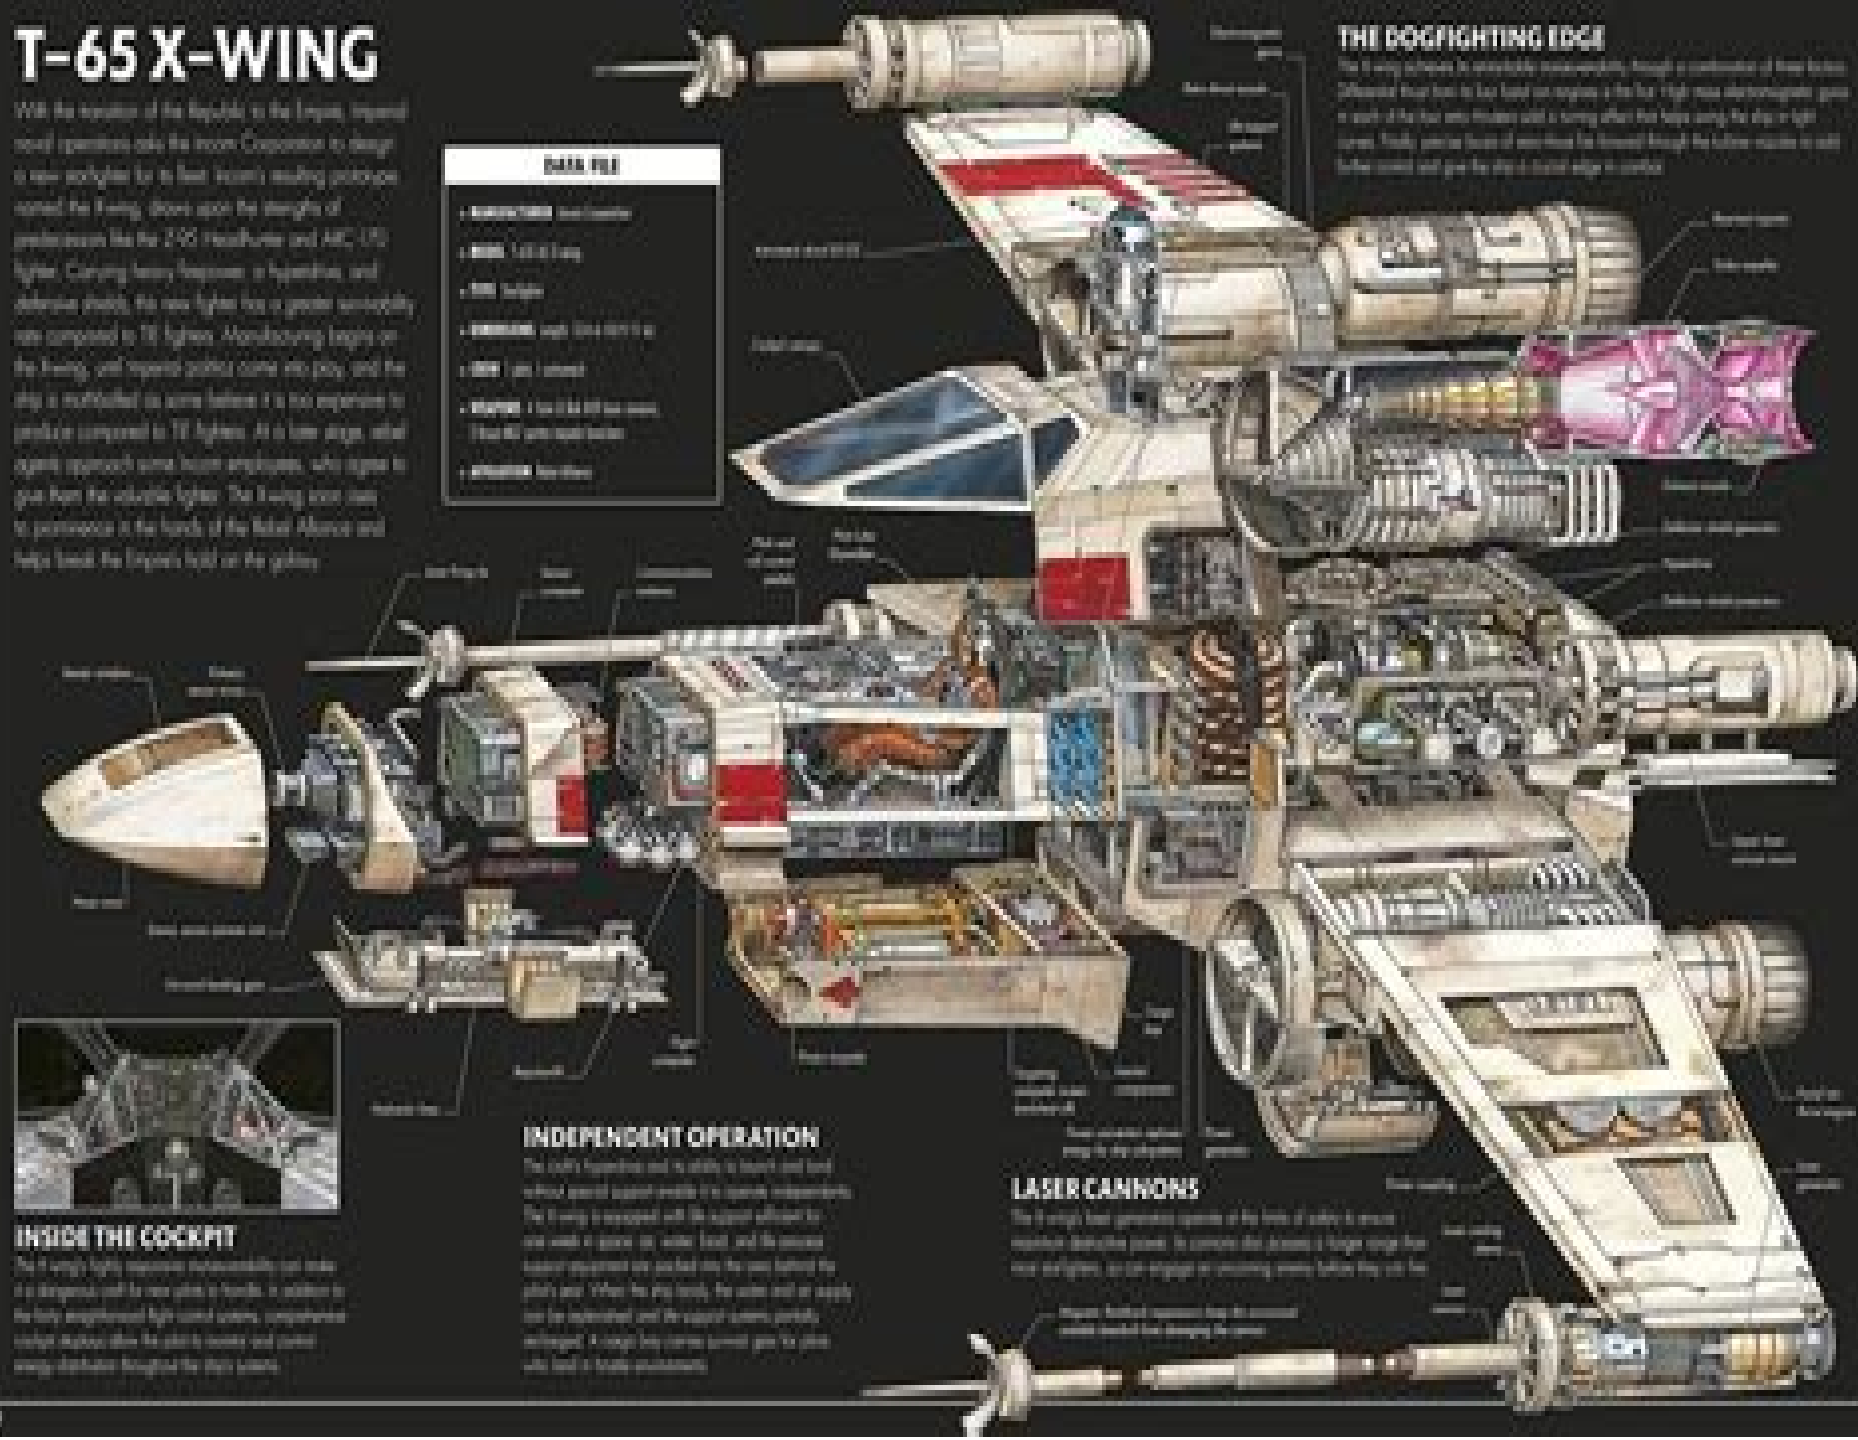

With the invasion of the Republic by the Empire, Imperial naval operations take the form Corporation to design a new fighter for its fleet. Yoda's leading principles inspired the X-wing, drawing upon the strengths of predecessors like the Z-95 Headhunter and ARC-170 fighter. Carrying heavy firepower, a hyperdrive, and defensive shields, the new fighter has a greater versatility than compared to TIE fighters. Manufacturing begins on the X-wing, and Imperial orders come into play, and the ship is manufactured in some believe it is too expensive to produce compared to TIE fighters. At a later stage, rebel agents approach some Imperial employees, who agree to pass from the valuable fighter. The X-wing soon flies to prominence in the hands of the Rebel Alliance and helps break the Empire's hold on the galaxy.

THE DOGFIGHTING EDGE

The X-wing achieves its remarkable maneuverability through a combination of three factors. Different from most in the fleet, the X-wing has high mass electromagnetic guns in each of the four main thrusters and a spring action that helps using the ship in tight corners. Finally, precise forces of ion cannons are focused through the hollow nacelles to add further control and give the ship a tactical edge in combat.

INSIDE THE COCKPIT

The X-wing's highly responsive maneuverability can make it a dangerous craft for new pilots to handle. In addition to the fully implemented light control console, comprehensive cockpit modules allow the pilots to monitor and control energy distribution throughout the ship's systems.

INDEPENDENT OPERATION

The ship's responsiveness and its ability to launch and land without ground support provide it its unique independence. The X-wing is equipped with its own support system for use while in space, on water, land, and the various support equipment are packed into the space behind the pilot's seat. When the ship lands, the water tank or supply can be refueled and the support system, possibly recharged. A single ion cannon control gun, the ship will land in faster environments.

LASER CANNONS

The X-wing's four powerful cannons are the first of their kind to receive maximum destructive power. Its cannons also possess a larger range than most fighters, so can engage an incoming enemy before they can fly.

Major feedback improves ship's movement, stabilizes control, changing the course.
