Standards Focus Conflict And Effect Chapter Four:

The Effects of Armed Conflict on Investment Treaties Tobias Ackermann, 2022-08-25 This book analyses the multi faceted impact armed conflict has on investment treaties Refuting the common association of the outbreak of hostilities with the termination or suspension of treaties it not only makes a case for the continuity of investment treaties The book argues that the impact of armed conflict on such agreements goes far beyond these questions Changed factual circumstances and public interests as well as international humanitarian law heavily influence the application and interpretation of investment protection standards The book argues that investment treaties can and must channel these effects to remain effective during armed conflict and strike a fair balance between investor and public interests It shows ways in which contextual and systemic interpretation respect for reasonable state action and careful treaty design can ensure that investment treaties continue to fulfil their purpose of strengthening compliance with legal rules also in times of armed conflict

The International Criminal Court in Ongoing Intrastate Conflicts Patrick S. Wegner, 2015-10-09 In recent decades international courts have increasingly started investigating armed conflicts However the impact of this remains under researched Patrick S Wegner closes this gap via a comprehensive analysis of the impact of the International Criminal Court in the Darfur and Lord s Resistance Army conflicts He offers a fresh approach to peace and conflict studies while avoiding the current quantitative focus of the literature and polarisation between critics and supporters of applying justice in conflicts This is the first time that the impact of an international criminal court has been analysed in all its facets in two conflicts The consequences of these investigations are much more complex and difficult to predict than most of the existing literature suggests Recurrent claims such as the deterrent effect of trials and the danger of blocking negotiations by the issuing of arrest warrants are put to the test here with some surprising results

The Application of Foreign Investment

Protection in Times of Armed Conflict Petr Stejskal, 2025-08-25 The monograph presents scenarios of situations where foreign investments suffer damage These model scenarios are based on thorough analysis of real cases facts from the ground and recent arbitral practice relating namely to arbitrations against Russia Syria or Libya This allows the author in the next step to ascertain what rules are applicable to the conduct of states towards foreign investments but also to demonstrate how they apply in real case scenarios In particular the work identifies and applies to these tailored scenarios relevant norms of international investment law international humanitarian law and international human rights law These regimes are relevant for protection of foreign investment but they differ as to the situations they govern parties whose conduct they regulate and obligations they stipulate It is therefore appropriate to analyse in their interconnection how these rules govern typical situations that may arise during armed conflict and what particularly they prescribe On the basis of application of these rules on the defined scenarios the monograph focuses on the issue of applicability of investment treaties in occupied territories and on interactions and on the issue of conflict of norms in situations where foreign investments qualify as military objectives

News Framing Effects Sophie Lecheler, Claes H. de Vreese, 2018-09-03 News Framing Effects is a guide to framing effects theory one of the most prominent theories in media and communication science Rooted in both psychology and sociology framing effects theory describes the ability of news media to influence people's attitudes and behaviors by subtle changes to how they report on an issue The book gives expert commentary on this complex theoretical notion alongside practical instruction on how to apply it to research The book's structure mirrors the steps a scholar might take to design a framing study The first chapter establishes a working definition of news framing effects theory The following chapters focus on how to identify the independent variable i.e. the news frame and the dependent variable i.e. the framing effect The book then considers the potential limits or enhancements of the proposed effects i.e. the moderators and how framing effects might emerge i.e. the mediators Finally it asks how strong these effects are likely to be The final chapter considers news framing research in the light of a rapidly and fundamentally changing news and information market in which technologies platforms and changing consumption patterns are forcing assumptions at the core of framing effects theory to be re-evaluated

Entrapment in Escalating Conflicts J. Brockner, J.Z. Rubin, 2012-12-06 It was just over 12 years ago that we first sat down together to talk about psychological traps In the relative calm of late afternoons feet draped casually over the seedy furnishings of the Tufts psychology department we entertained each other with personal anecdotes about old cars times spent lost on hold and the Shakespearean concerns of Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Lord and Lady Macbeth and other notables Eventually informed by our many illustrations and the excitement that their repeated telling engendered in the two of us we began to move more formally into trap analysis How do you know a trap when you see one What are the shared characteristics of all psychological traps regardless of origin scope or complexity What are the key conceptual elements in any effort to differentiate among the traps of the world What factors make us more or less apt to fall prey to entrapment These were some of the questions that arose during these initial meetings A series of weekly meetings stretched over the ensuing years interrupted temporarily by various exigencies and led eventually to a research program that grew to involve a number of students and faculty colleagues At the time of course we did not regard our work as a research program rather even as our experiments proceeded to answer two burning questions at a time they managed to raise three or four new issues that we had not anticipated before

Crafting Peace Caroline A. Hartzell, Matthew Hoddie, 2015-10-29 The recent efforts to reach a settlement of the enduring and tragic conflict in Darfur demonstrate how important it is to understand what factors contribute most to the success of such efforts In this book Caroline Hartzell and Matthew Hoddie review data from all negotiated civil war settlements between 1945 and 1999 in order to identify these factors What they find is that settlements are more likely to produce an enduring peace if they involve construction of a diversity of power sharing and power dividing arrangements between former adversaries The strongest negotiated settlements prove to be those in which former rivals agree to share or divide state power across its economic military political and territorial dimensions This finding is a significant addition to the existing literature which tends to focus more on the role that third parties play in mediating and enforcing agreements Beyond the quantitative analyses the authors include a chapter comparing contrasting cases of successful and unsuccessful settlements in the Philippines and Angola respectively Methods in Stream Ecology F. Richard Hauer, Gary Lamberti, 2011-04-27 Methods in Stream Ecology Second Edition provides a complete series of field and laboratory protocols in stream ecology that are ideal for teaching or conducting research This updated edition reflects recent advances in the technology associated with ecological assessment of streams including remote sensing In addition the relationship between stream flow and alluviation has been added and a new chapter on riparian zones is also included The book features exercises in each chapter detailed instructions illustrations formulae and data sheets for in field research for students and taxonomic keys to common stream invertebrates and algae With a student friendly price this book is key for all students and researchers in stream and freshwater ecology freshwater biology marine ecology and river ecology This text is also supportive as a supplementary text for courses in watershed ecology science hydrology fluvial geomorphology and landscape ecology Exercises in each chapter Detailed instructions illustrations formulae and data sheets for in field research for students Taxonomic keys to common stream invertebrates and algae Link from Chapter 22 FISH COMMUNITY COMPOSITION to an interactive program for assessing and modeling fish numbers
