

Sample College Application Essay #5

Accepted by Stanford

When I look at this picture of myself, I realize how much I've grown and changed, not only physically, but also mentally as a person in the last couple of years. Less than one month after this photograph was taken, I arrived at the [school's name] in [school's location] without any idea of what to expect. I entered my second year of high school as an innocent thirteen year-old who was about a thousand miles from home and was a new member of not the sophomore, but "lower-middle" class. Around me in this picture are the things which were most important in my life at the time: studying different types of cars and planes, following every move made by Tiger Woods, and seeing the latest blockbuster movies like "The Dark Knight" or "Spider Man 3." On my t-shirt is the rest of my life -- golf. Midway through my senior year at the special [school's name] school, the focuses in my life have changed dramatically.

If there is one common occurrence which takes place for every single person in the diverse student body at [school's name], it is that we all grow up much faster for having lived there. I do not know whether this speeding up of the maturing process is generally good or bad, but I definitely have benefited.

The classroom has become a whole different realm for me. Before, the teachers and students alike preached the importance of learning, but it was implicitly obvious that the most important concern was grades. At [school's name] teachers genuinely believe that learning is the most importance objective and deeply encourage us to collaborate with each other and make use of all resources that we may find. In fact, in a certain class this year, my teacher assigned us to prepare every day of the week to discuss a certain book; there were only two requirements in this preparation -- we had to maximize our sources, glean from everything and everyone in the school, but we were not allowed to actually look at the book. As a result, I know more about that book than any other that I have actually read. It is teaching methods such as this which ensure that we will learn more. Indeed, this matter of "thinking" has been one of the most important aspects of my experience. Whether in Physics or English, I'm required to approach every problem and idea independently and creatively rather than just regurgitate the teacher's words. In discussion with fellow students both inside and outside of class, the complex thoughts flowing through everyone's brain is evident.

However, I believe that the most important concepts that I have espoused in being independent of my parents for half of each year, deal with being a cosmopolitan person. The school's faculty and students are conscious about keeping all of the kids' attention from being based on the school. Every single issue of global concern is brought forth by one group or another whether it be a faculty member, publication, ethnic society, or individual student. Along with being aware of issues of importance, after attending [school's name] my personality has evolved. First, my mannerisms have grown: the school stresses giving respect to everyone and everything. Our former headmaster often said, "Character can be measured not by one's interaction with people who are better off than him or herself, but by one's interactions with those who are worse off." The other prime goal of the school's community is to convert every single timid lower-classman into a loud, rambunctious senior. Basically, if you have an opinion about something, it is wrong not to voice that opinion. Of course, being obnoxious is not the idea. The key is to become a master of communication with teachers, fellow students, all of who are a part of the community, and most importantly, those who are outside of the community.

I do not want to make [school's name] sound as if it produces the perfect students, because it doesn't. But the school deserves a lot of credit for its efforts. Often, some part of the mold does remain. As the college experience approaches, I am still the same person, only modified to better maximize my talents. Although I still have some time to play tennis and see movies, perhaps one of the few similarities between this photograph and me now is my smile.

How I Got Into Stanford (By A Student Who Successfully Transferred to Stanford) Mandy Howard, 2012-04-04 ABOUT THE BOOK Lets face it competition these days is stiff More high school seniors are applying to college than ever before The increased competition means greater numbers of eager students stuck with envelopes delivering a quick thanks but no thanks rejection Maybe you didn't know exactly what you wanted from your college experience the first time you applied or you've done extremely well at a local school and are ready to swim in a sea worthy of your talent Maybe going to Stanford is your dream and you can't give up on receiving that diploma quite yet Applying as a transfer student allows the school admissions to have another look at you and presents you in a different pool of applicants Every year worthy applicants are turned away simply because of the limited capacity of the class Still transferring is tricky business Transfer admission is even more competitive than admission to the freshman class

Recently there have only been between 20 and 40 transfer students admitted each year The year I transferred the number was fewer than 20 This is partially because the students at Stanford are too darn happy student retention rate at the school is typically 98% MEET THE AUTHOR Mandy Howard is a writer and painter born in Denver Colorado She received a BA in Art and Writing at Stanford University in 2009 and an MFA at the San Francisco Art Institute in 2011 She has studied at the Art Students League of Denver the Slade School of Art and Oxford University She is the recipient of the Allied Arts Award the New York Art Exchange Scholarship and the Elizabeth Greenshields Fellowship Mandy currently teaches writes and paints in San Francisco California EXCERPT FROM THE BOOK Play up the things that make you unique Emphasize your special talent There are so many students with perfect grades and perfect test scores What makes you different What makes you special Make sure your credits will transfer Check with the admissions office at Stanford See if you can talk to someone about if your current course load will transfer to Stanfords requirements Make sure that transferring is still worthwhile if not all of your courses will transfer Keep in mind that you may have additional requirements and it could take you longer to graduate and that this could cost more Look in the Stanford Course Guide and pick exactly which major you would be pursuing Match as best you can your currently courses to the the requirements of that major Excel at your current school Consider your semester or two at your current school to be another chance to prove yourself This is not the time to let your grades slack If you arent happy with the location or the social situation throw yourself into your studies If you dont like the professors or the classes you are required to take take revenge by acing everything Dont isolate yourself in your room with your cell phone do your best to participate in extracurricular activities and give something to the school you are currently at Make the most out of your situation youll get it back in good school karma CHAPTER OUTLINE How I Transferred to Stanford Introduction The Application Mistakes to Avoid Secret Tips and Tricks and much more 25 Successful Stanford University Applications College Crush,2020-11-19 This compilation of 25 complete and successful Stanford University applications from real students is a part of the College Crush Collection a book series focused on helping you get into the college of your choice We at College Crush believe the best way to compete for admittance into the college of your choice is by understanding what you are up against The 25 Stanford applications in this book will give you a better understanding of how you compare with the outstanding students that apply and are accepted to Stanford University every year If you are a freshman in high school you can use this collection of applications as a model or basis to help direct your activities and studies over the next four years to get accepted into an elite institution If you are a senior in high school the plethora of application essays in this book can help you with writing your common application and school specific essays This collection of real and successful Stanford applications will give you a future applicant better insight into what it truly takes to get into Stanford University By providing the entire applications of admitted Stanford Students we are hoping to provide you with a complete holistic glimpse at what can make your application standout to college admissions officers Who This Book Is For High School Students Wondering
