	What the Soviets Wanted	What the Americans Wanted
1. Would it make any sense to build nuclear weapons and test?	That it is important that communist countries have arms.	Not really.
2. What would happen if the United States tested and developed its own?	They would certainly produce weapons that were better. The only thing is, it would take a long time to build a delivery system.	They were worried that it was a sign of Communism. There was no way to know when the USSR would develop them. They would have a nuclear weapon, which would give the United States a strategic advantage.
3. Would testing weapons change the world?	Not really.	It would be a major event. It would be a sign of the end of the world.
4. Would the United States really test?	Yes, the government had to. It was a matter of survival.	Yes, because the world was in danger. It was a matter of survival.

2. What do you think the author's attitude is toward the agreement?
