The Separatist Conflict in Sri Lanka Asoka Bandarage,2008-11-19 The book provides a detailed historically based analysis of the origin evolution and potential resolution of the civil conflict in Sri Lanka over the struggle to establish a separate state in its Northern and Eastern provinces This conflict between the Sri Lankan government and the secessionist LTTE Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eelam is one of the world s most intractable contemporary armed struggles The internationally banned LTTE is considered the prototype of modern terrorism It is known to have introduced suicide bombing to the world and recently became the first terrorist organization ever to acquire an air force The iron law of ethnicity the assumption that cultural difference inevitably leads to conflict has been reinforced by the 9 11 attacks and conflicts like the one in Sri Lanka. However, the connections among ethnic difference, conflict, and terrorism are not automatic. This book broadens the discourse on the separatist conflict in Sri Lanka by moving beyond the familiar bipolar Sinhala versus Tamil ethnic antagonism to show how the form and content of ethnicity are shaped by historical social forces. It develops a multipolar analysis which takes into account diverse ethnic groups, intra-ethnic social class, caste, and other variables at the local, regional, and international levels. Overall, this book presents a conceptual framework useful for comparative global conflict analysis and resolution, shedding light on a host of complex issues such as terrorism, civil society, diasporas, international intervention, and secessionism.

Guidelines on institutional coordination for drought management Walker, D.W.; Salman, M.; Pek, E.; Stefanski, R.; Aich, V., Drought has direct or indirect impacts on all aspects of society, the environment, and the economy. This multifaceted nature has implications for managing drought events, particularly in coordinating mitigation efforts. Institutional coordination and communication are vital for drought management as they enable effective collaboration among government agencies, stakeholders, and communities. Coordinated efforts facilitate the sharing of information, expertise, and resources, leading to more robust risk assessments and drought management plans, improved community engagement, more timely response, and better preparedness for drought events. The report is prepared by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO), the Global Water Partnership (GWP), and the World Meteorological Organization (WMO) under the framework of the project 'Enabling Activities for Implementing UNCCD COP Drought Decisions', funded by the Global Environment Facility (GEF) and implemented in collaboration with the United Nations Convention to Combat Desertification (UNCCD) and other partners.

Climate Change and Risk in South and Southeast Asia Devendraraj Madhanagopal, Salim Momtaz, 2022-11-30. This book focuses on South and Southeast Asia, upgrading our understanding of the influence of multiple sociopolitical and governance factors on climate change and risks. Moving beyond science and technology-oriented discussions on climate change, it argues that the real solutions to climate change problems lie in societies' governance systems, non-state actors, and the power and politics underpinning these systems. It presents a range of detailed conceptual, empirical, and policy-oriented insights from different nations of South and Southeast Asia, including India, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, Indonesia, Vietnam, Maldives, and Bhutan. The chapters bring forth critical discussions of climate change, covering a diverse range of topics including livelihoods, gender, community perspectives, relocation, resilience, local politics, climate change communication, governance, and policy responses. By investigating climate change vulnerabilities and, as well as, offering feasible solutions to the states and other non-state actors in responding to climate change and risks, this book deepens our existing knowledge of the social and political dimensions of climate change. With interdisciplinary perspectives, this book will appeal to all students, researchers, and scholars of environmental studies, geography, disaster studies, sociology, policy studies, development studies, and political science. It provides valuable reading to practitioners, policymakers, and professionals working in related fields Children, Human Rights and Temporary Labour Migration Rasika Jayasuriya, 2021-06-22 This book focuses on the neglected yet critical issue of how the global migration of millions of parents as low waged migrant workers impacts the rights of their children under international human rights law The work provides a systematic analysis and critique of how the restrictive features of policies governing temporary labour migration interfere with provisions of the Convention on the Rights of the Child that protect the child parent relationship and parental role in children s lives Combining social and legal research it identifies both potential harms to children s well being caused by prolonged child parent separation and State duties to protect this relationship which is deliberately disrupted by temporary labour migration policies The book boldly argues that States benefitting from the labour of migrant workers share responsibility under international human rights law to mitigate harms to the children of these workers including by supporting effective measures to maintain transnational child parent relationships It identifies measures to incorporate children s best interests into temporary labour migration policies offering ways to reduce interferences with children s family rights This book fills a gap that emerges at the intersection of child rights studies migration research and existing literature on the purported nexus between labour migration and international development It will be a valuable resource for academics researchers and policymakers working in these areas The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9781003028000> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license Innovative Approaches to Handle Plastic Waste and Foster Bio-based Plastics Production Walter Leal Filho, Jelena Barbir, Nhan Huu Nguyen, Reinhard Saborowski, 2025-05-12 This book provides a platform for the dissemination of information on the latest initiatives paving the way for technology transfer and networking Addressing the global challenge of plastic waste requires innovative approaches both in managing existing waste and in developing sustainable materials The strategies can be broadly categorised into two main areas a handling plastic waste and b fostering bio based plastics production Both are equally important There is a perceived need for publications which document and showcase innovative approaches and strategies to tackle the plastic waste challenge Against this backdrop and in order to facilitate a broad discussion on the contribution of innovative approaches to handle plastic and foster bioplastics use that this book is being produced Produced as an output of the Horizon 2020 project BIO PLASTICS EUROPE The book gathers inputs from universities and research organisations working on matters related to plastic waste management and bioplastic production in a variety of contexts Furthermore the book intends to provide a fertile basis upon which universities research centres and practitioners may cooperate more closely in this key area Last but not least a further aim of the book is to present methodological approaches and experiences deriving from case studies and projects which aim to show how research to handle plastic based pollution and many related problems may be implementing across a range of disciplines Thanks to its scope and interdisciplinarity this books makes an excellent reading to everyone interested on handling the many challenges posed by plastics in our modern society Multi-Hazard Early Warning and Disaster Risks Dilanthi Amaratunga, Richard Haigh, Nuwan Dias, 2021-09-11 This book presents a collection of papers under the theme of multi hazard early warning and disaster risks These were selected from the presentations made at the International Symposium on Tsunami and Multi Hazard Risks Early Warning and Community Awareness in supporting implementation of the Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction 2015 2030 This conference aimed to recognize achievements and to highlight work that still needs to be carried out The conference promoted collaboration among academia research institutions and disaster management offices and further encouraged multidisciplinary and multi sectoral interaction This International Symposium on Multi Hazard Early Warning and Disaster Risk Reduction provided an important opportunity to reflect upon our progress to date in tackling disaster risk but also to consider some of the challenges and opportunities that lay ahead of us A particular focus of this event was Multi Hazard Early Warning During the negotiations for the Sendai Framework countries and partners highlighted the need to

- 1 Continue to invest in develop maintain and strengthen people centred end to end early warning systems
- 2 Promote the application of simple and low cost early warning equipment and facilities
- 3 Broaden the dissemination channels for early warning information to facilitate early action

Countries also called for the further development of and investment in effective nationally compatible regional multi hazard early warning mechanisms To address these needs global Target g of the Sendai Framework was adopted namely to substantially increase the availability of and access to multi hazard early warning systems and disaster risk information and assessments to the people by 2030 As illustrated by recent events in Indonesia it is also vital to address the challenge of cascading hazards that pose a tsunami risk and the importance of linking tsunami early warning to a multi hazard environment However moving towards a multi hazard environment is complex and poses many challenges but can bring significant benefits in terms of efficiencies and also in recognising the links between hazards such as cascading threats We very much hope that this book will provide an important platform to address these and other challenges in addressing disaster risk as well as supporting implementation of the Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction Researching with Communities Ruth DeSouza, Andy Williamson, 2007 Researching with communities presents a range of personal and grounded perspectives from academics researchers and practitioners on undertaking research in ways that promote and privilege the voice of the community is respectful of local or indigenous practices and is culturally safe Most definitely not a tick list for approaching community inclusive research this book provides grounded exemplars guides and discussion about the experiences of doing research respectfully and inclusively It does this by drawing on the perspectives of researchers and community practitioners and by providing a range of reflective chapters that explore what community based research means in a range of settings and for a range of people Like the communities in which they are grounded undertaking research in this way is always a unique experience Sovereignty, Space and Civil War in Sri Lanka Anoma Pieris, 2018-10-25 Analyses of the Sri Lankan civil war 1983 2009 overwhelmingly represent it as an

ethnonationalist contest prolonging postcolonial arguments on the creation and dissolution of the incipient nation state since independence in 1948 While colonial divide and rule policies the rise of ethnonationalist lobbies structural discrimination and majoritarian democracy have been established as grounds for inter ethnic hostility there are other significant transformative forces that remain largely unacknowledged in postcolonial analyses This ambitious multiscalar spatial study of civil war in Sri Lanka offers an intersectional de ethnicised analysis of political sovereignty drawn out by the struggle for territory Based on vital retrospective findings from the five year postwar period when wartime hostilities were still festering it convincingly links ethnonationalism to postnational border politics marketisation militarised securitisation and illiberal democracy This book argues that internecine conflict exposes the implicit violence within nation state formations mass human displacements heighten collective and individual ontological insecurity and neoliberalism makes the nation porous in unforeseen ways Based around three themes normative spaces human mobilities and exilic states it is organised into ten comprehensive chapter based explorations of a range of spatial units including homes cities routes camps and experiences of ruin that were irrevocably politicised by protracted conflict Focusing on their material transformations over a thirty seven year period the book explores what can be known of the war if we look beyond ethnicity to other salient shared geographical features of this embattled history The book uncovers how fealty to exclusionary cultures of political sovereignty aligns us with their violence limiting our capacity for empathy a boundary seemingly exacerbated by neoliberal opportunities Making use of Sri Lanka as a case study to test geographic architectural and urban methodologies for understanding violence this book acts as a provocation to rethink current readings of the particular case study while reflecting on the more general impact of marketisation and militarisation in Asia It will be of interest to an interdisciplinary audience including those scholars interested in South Asian history politics and civil war South Asian studies border studies geography and architecture and urban studies

Redefining Genocide Damien Short, 2016-06-15 In this highly controversial and original work Damien Short systematically rethinks how genocide is and should be defined Rather than focusing solely on a narrow conception of genocide as direct mass killing through close empirical analysis of a number of under discussed case studies including Palestine Sri Lanka Australia and Alberta Canada the book reveals the key role played by settler colonialism capitalism finite resources and the ecological crisis in driving genocidal social death on a global scale

Enduring violence Rebecca Walker, 2018-09-30 Located in the war torn eastern province of Sri Lanka this book provides a rich ethnography of how Tamil speaking communities in Batticaloa live through and make sense of a violence that shapes everyday life itself The core of the book comes from the author's two year close interaction with a group of mainly women human rights activists in the area The book describes how the activists work in clandestine informal ways to support families whose loved ones have been threatened disappeared or killed and how they build networks of trust within the context of everyday violence As Sri Lanka faces up to the enormity of the task of post war reconciliation this book aims to create a wider conversation about grief resistance and healing in the context of violence and its long afterlife The Middle East and North Africa Alasdair Drysdale, 2024-10-15 This contemporary text the first in over a decade on the region presents the geography of the Middle East and North Africa defined as the Arab World Israel Turkey Iran and Afghanistan Thematically organized the book s eleven chapters focus on the region s physical and climatic setting demographic characteristics migration patterns religious and linguistic diversity political map offshore claims oil and gas resources and subregions and states Within this framework Drysdale emphasizes pressing current problems the impact of climate change in a region where some areas already suffer from extreme summer heat and aridity the challenge of providing additional water in a region where per capita availability of freshwater is already the lowest in the world the impact of high fertility and rapid population growth in a fragile environment where economies are often unable to absorb young workers entering the labor force the looming prospect of an aging population the effects of out and in migration the diverse impact and role of Islam in daily and public life the integrative consequences of linguistic and ethnic diversity the evolution and imperfections of the political map ongoing territorial and boundary disputes that often have global repercussions external dependence on the region s prolific oil and gas resources and the extreme regional inequalities associated with their presence or absence This timely and insightful analysis is essential reading for students of the region who need a better understanding of key regional characteristics challenges and issues
