Walking In Circles Before Lying Down Merrill Markoe:

Walking in Circles Before Lying Down Merrill Markoe, 2006-08-01 Dawn Tarnauer's life isn't exactly a success story. Already twice divorced, the young Californian is too busy job hopping to start a career; her current boyfriend insists on living off the grid; her Life Coach sister perpetually interferes with incomprehensible affirmations; her eccentric mother is busy promoting the culmination of her life's work, The Every Holiday Tree; and her father is ending his brief third marriage while scheduling two dates for the same night. Dawn's only source of security and comfort it seems is Chuck, a pit bull mix from the pound. So when her boyfriend announces that he's leaving her for another woman, a despairing Dawn turns to Chuck for solace. I should have said something sooner, Chuck confides as he tries to console her. Couldn't you smell her on his pants? Dawn is stunned. It's one thing to talk to your pets, but what do you do when they start talking back? It's not just Chuck either; she can hear all dogs, and man's best friend has a lot to say. The ever-enthusiastic Chuck offers his tried and true advice on the merits of knocking over garbage and stewing it everywhere, auxiliary competitive peeing etiquette, and the curative powers of tossing a ball. Doubtful of her own sanity, Dawn considers that in the ways of life and love, it might be better to trust Chuck's doggie instincts instead of her own. Filled with sharp wit, biting humor, and canine conversation that would make Doctor Dolittle's jaw drop, Merrill Markoe's engaging, cleverly written novel is about the confusing search for love and the divine acts of dog.

Not Funny Jena Friedman, 2024-05-07 Friedman's debut collection Not Funny takes on the third rails of modern life in Jena's bold and subversive style with essays that explore cancel culture, sexism, work, celebrity worship, and dead baby jokes. In a moment where women's rights are being rolled back, fascism is on the rise, and so many of us could use a breather as we struggle to get by, Jena applies her unique gifts to pull a laugh from things deemed too raw, too precious, and too scary to joke about. She shares her stories of taking on those who told her she was too brash, too edgy, and too unlikable to make it. She deftly dissects how we get coerced into silence on the issues that matter most until they've gone too far afield to be turned back around again. And she shares her struggles to make it in a world that more often than not would rather tune out than listen to a woman confronting the indignities we've been told to bear. Dust jacket flap.
