The City Is the Factory Miriam Greenberg, Penny Lewis, 2017-06-06 Urban public spaces from the streets and squares of Buenos Aires to Zuccotti Park in New York City have become the emblematic sites of contentious politics in the twenty first century As the contributors to The City Is the Factory argue this resurgent politics of the square is itself part of a broader shift in the primary locations and targets of popular protest from the workplace to the city This shift is due to an array of intersecting developments the concentration of people profit and social inequality in growing urban areas the attacks on and precarity faced by unions and workers movements and the sense of possibility and actual leverage afforded by local politics and the tactical use of urban space Thus the city from the town square to the banlieu is becoming like the factory of old a site of production and profit making as well as new forms of solidarity resistance and social reimagining We see examples of the city as factory in new place based political alliances as workers and the unemployed find common cause with right to the city struggles Demands for jobs with justice are linked with demands for the urban commons from affordable housing to a healthy environment from immigrant rights to urban citizenship and the right to streets free from both violence and racially biased policing The case studies and essays in The City Is the Factory provide descriptions and analysis of the form substance limits and possibilities of these timely struggles Contributors Melissa Checker Queens College and the Graduate Center of the City University of New York Daniel Aldana Cohen University of Pennsylvania Els de Graauw Baruch College City University of New York Kathleen Dunn Loyola University Chicago Shannon Gleeson Cornell University Miriam Greenberg University of California Santa Cruz Alejandro Grimson Universidad de San Mart n Argentina Andrew Herod University of Georgia Penny Lewis Joseph S Murphy Institute for Worker Education and Labor Studies City University of New York Stephanie Luce Joseph S Murphy Institute for Worker Education and Labor Studies City University of New York Lize Mogel artist and coeditor of An Atlas of Radical Cartography Gretchen Purser Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs Syracuse University
