

The Biography of Walt Disney

Walt Disney was born on December 5, 1901, in Hermosa, Illinois. He is the second child of Elias Disney and Flora Call Disney. He and his brother, Roy co-founded Walt Disney Productions, which became one of the best-known motion-picture production companies in the world. Walt was famous because he created Mickey Mouse and was the founder of Disneyland. When Walt was 4 years old, his family moved to a farm in Marceline, Missouri. While at the farm, he began interested in drawing when he was paid to draw a horse of a retired neighborhood doctor. Walt's family moved again to Kansas City after Walt became sick and couldn't take care of the farm. When Walt was about nine or ten, he and his brother, Roy, worked for their father's newspaper route. In 1910, Walt's family moved again to Chicago while Walt stayed to finish school.

Walt moved to Kansas City to pursue a career as a newspaper artist. His brother, Roy, got him a job at the Pesmen-Rubin Art Studio, where he met cartoonist Ub Iwerks. Walt later had a studio called Laugh-O-Grams and recruited Fred Harman, and his brothers, Hugh and Iwerks. The studio was developing Alice in CartoonLand, but was soon declared bankrupt.

Walt and Roy pooled their money to move to Hollywood and Roy relocated to California. The three of them began the Disney Brothers' Studio. Their first deal was to distribute their Alice cartoons to New York distributor Margaret Winkler. A few years later, Walt found out that Margaret and her husband stolen the rights to the Alice cartoons and Walt's animators, except Iwerks. Right away, the Disney brothers and Iwerks produced 3 cartoons featuring a new character Walt developed called Mickey Mouse. The way to success was to create a character that was fun and easy to love.
