Walter Sisulu University Study Guide 2014

Tinyiko Maluleke

Walter Sisulu University Study Guide 2014:

Reflections of South African University Leaders: 1981 to 2014 Council on Higher Education, 2016-03-17 Much has been written about the ever growing demands on university leadership worldwide in the face of increasingly complex changes and challenges from within the academy and beyond However as we are reminded by Johan Muller in the Introduction to this book there are particular features of time and place that also throw up unique problems It is precisely time and place that make this set of reflections by university leaders quite remarkable and distinguishes it from the many biographies to be found in the literature on higher education leadership In the main this collection spans two decades the 1990s and 2000s of unprecedented levels of change in South African higher education Leaders in universities as well as those responsible for higher education policy in the government and associated statutory bodies had no neat script to work off nor manuals or prescripts of good leadership or practice Instead there was palpable excitement about collectively imagining and nurturing a new post apartheid higher education system which would contribute to the social and economic development needs of the country the deepening of democracy and which would also be globally relevant Most reflections touch on the coalface of leadership which is the face to face interactional dimension dealing with staff with students with council chairs What comes through clearly is the importance of what are sometimes called people skills In these accounts this is not simply presented as a human relations aptitude for a number of reasons first of which is the special nature of universities and their occupants More than one points out the special challenge of managing the talented people that are academics and their inbuilt distaste for bureaucracy their reluctance to be managed or told what to do The message here is consistently one of needing to be completely open with academics the importance of maintaining the distinction between collegial and executive management avoiding managerialism and the critical importance of winning and holding their trust The inspiration for this collection arose in late 2013 in the Council on Higher Education's CHE Monitoring and Evaluation Directorate the directorate responsible for conducting research on the higher education landscape and monitoring the state of the sector They noted that conditions besetting universities had grown increasingly complex both globally but more especially locally and the question arose how had this altered the challenges to university leadership over the period between the new political dispensation and the second decade of the new millennium More particularly how had leaders with a proven track record of visionary and strong leadership during this period faced these challenges How did they see the main changes that needed dealing with What challenges did these changes pose and how were they successfully overcome What did they think looking back were the main constituents of successful leadership and management What wisdom could be distilled for posterity The Directorate decided to invite a range of vice chancellors and senior academic leaders who had completed their terms of office to contribute to a project that set out to gather such reflections and compile them into a publication

Polyvocal Professional Learning through Self-Study Research Kathleen Pithouse-Morgan, Anastasia P.

Samaras, 2015-10-30 Polyvocal Professional Learning through Self Study Research illustrates the power of we for innovative and authentic professional learning. The 33 contributors to this book include experienced and emerging self study researchers writing in collaboration across multiple professions, academic disciplines, contexts and continents. These authors have noted and reviewed each other's chapters and adapted their contributions to generate a polyvocal conversation that significantly advances scholarship on professional learning through self study research. Building on and extending the existing body of work on self study research, the book offers an extensive and in depth scholarly exploration of the how, why and impact of professional learning through context specific practitioner led inquiry. The chapters illustrate polyvocal professional learning as both phenomenon and method with the original research that is presented in every chapter adding to the forms of methodological inventiveness that have been developed and documented within the self study research community. This unique book represents an inspiring step forward in self study research. Authors from various continents provide evidence of how the I can be strengthened through the we perspective, showing convincingly how polyvocality, transdisciplinarity and an intercultural approach deepen professional learning. This powerful book offers important new insights for the methodology of self study with an impact beyond teachers and teacher educators. Fred A J Korthagen, Professor Emeritus at Utrecht University, The Netherlands. A fascinating set of chapters illustrates the importance of many lenses and many voices when studying one's practice. Each chapter testifies that self study and its ties to improvement through posing thoughtful questions, collecting and analyzing relevant data and interrogating the interpretation of one's analysis of self are global and cross disciplinary. This book is a must read. Ren e T Clift, Professor and Associate Dean, University of Arizona, USA.

Object Medleys Daisy Pillay, Kathleen

Pithouse-Morgan, Inbanathan Naicker, 2017-11-13 How do we get at the meanings of everyday and not so everyday objects and how might these meanings enrich educational research? The study of objects is well established in fields such as archaeology, art history, communications, fine arts, museum studies and sociology but is still developing in education. Object Medleys: Interpretive Possibilities for Educational Research brings together 37 educational researchers from wide ranging contexts and multiple knowledge fields to a dialogic space in which subjects and objects, living and nonliving, entangle as medleys to open up understandings of connections made with, between and through objects. Object Medleys offers diverse innovative modes and lenses for representing, interpreting and theorising object studies. The book is distinctive within scholarship on object inquiry in that much of the research has been conducted within Southern African educational contexts. This is complemented by contributions from scholars based in Canada and the United Kingdom. The original research represented in each peer reviewed chapter expands academic conversations about what counts as data and analysis in educational research Overall Object Medleys illuminates the applied and theoretical usefulness of objects in response to pressing educational and societal questions Object Medleys is a rich and fascinating exploration of new possibilities with potential for research teaching and learning that seems almost unlimited This book is a rich assembly of affordances for exploring and widening the role of objects in educational research It relocates attention from language and text towards embodied and material storytelling practices where new and marginalised ways of expression can find their ways into classrooms thereby opening completely new avenues of teaching and learning Kenneth M Ibjerg J rgensen Professor Aalborg University Denmark In a time when materiality is being brought at the centre of critical inquiry in the social sciences and humanities this edited collection offers unique insights into the relationship between objects subjectivities and learning Beautifully written and cogently argued the book breaks new ground by casting a critical spotlight on artefacts that might appear mundane at first sight but on closer inspection reveal complex patterns of educational potential Tommaso M Milani Associate Professor University of the Witwatersrand Johannesburg South Africa

Waste Management and the Environment VII C. A. Brebbia, G. Passerini, H. Itoh, 2014-05-12 The proceedings of the 7th International Conference on Waste Management and the Environment follows on from the success of previous meetings held in Cadiz 2002 Rhodes 2004 Malta 2006 Granada 2008 Tallin 2010 and the New Forest 2012 There is growing awareness of the detrimental effects of current waste disposal and a movement towards greater accountability for effective waste management Better practices and safer solutions are required This creates a need for more research on current disposal methods such as landfills incineration chemical and effluent treatment as well as recycling waste incineration clean technologies waste monitoring public and corporate awareness and general education Waste Management is one of the key problems of modern society due to the ever expanding volume and complexity of discarded domestic and industrial waste Unfortunately many of the policies adopted in the past were aimed at short term solutions without due regard to the long term implications on health and the environment leading in many cases to the need to take difficult and expensive remedial action The desired direction of waste management is towards sustainable strategies The approach which has emerged as the most sustainable strategy has been called 3Rs where reduction reuse and recycling in this order are seen as the best actions Recently recovery is added as the fourth action 4Rs applied in order to for example recover energy from waste that cannot be classified under the 3Rs This largely decreases the volume of the waste that needs final disposal Further steps are required towards improvement of current technologies increased collaboration between the public government and private sectors and increased involvement of all stakeholders Topics covered include Environmental impact Reduce reuse recycle and recovery 4Rs Cost and benefits of management options Waste incineration and gasification Energy from waste Industrial waste management Nuclear and hazardous waste Agricultural waste Wastewater eWaste Landfill optimization and mining Remote sensing Thermal treatment Emergent pollutants Environmental remediation Legislation Behavioural issues
