It has been stated that information is the currency of the 21st century and billions of words are added every minute to the mountains of words in the library of human existence. This mountain at most can be very intimidating and mind boggling and navigating through the burrows and rows of words in this library searching for new information or knowledge can be very daunting. No wonder through the help of technology the world is gradually moving from Do it for us to Do it yourself. But doing it yourself requires skills, time, patience and resilience. Since it has no doubt increasingly become difficult for people to do research online, access relevant information or develop new skills, probably due to the constraint of time, it is our quest to help you overcome all these constraints which gave birth to the book DO IT YOURSELF. Do it yourself is the most comprehensive guide of How to s in any subject matter that is of interest to you. We gracefully understand what it takes to browse through thousands or even millions of pages online looking for information on the new skill you want to acquire or the new information you want to access; we have therefore saved you time and money by compiling all the information in a book form to save you millions of hours of research data and loss of quality time with loved ones. Do it yourself is therefore aimed at helping you achieve more and become better with less efforts which will directly or indirectly change your way of thinking for the betterment of your life and that of others.

The Battle of the Fields Brian Short, 2014. This book will appeal not only to historians and geographers but to many who maintain a deep interest in the British countryside and its past and to those who continue to share a fascination for the Second World War in particular the home front. The Battle of the Fields tells the story of rural community and authority in Britain during the Second World War by looking at the County War Agricultural Executive Committees. From 1939 they were imbued with powers to transform British farming to combat the loss of food imports caused by German naval activity and initial European mainland successes. Their powers were sweeping and draconian. When fully exercised against recalcitrant farmers, dispossession in part or whole could and did result. This book includes the most detailed analysis of these dispossessions, including the tragic case of Ray Walden, the Hampshire farmer who was killed by police after refusing to leave his farmhouse in 1940. The committees were deemed successful by Whitehall as harbingers of modernity mechanization draining artificial fertilizers reclamation of heaths marshes and woodlands We now deplore some of these changes but Britain did not starve in large part thanks to their efforts This book will appeal not only to historians and geographers but to many who maintain a deep interest in the British countryside and its past and to those who continue to share a fascination for the Second World War in particular the home front It will also demonstrate to all who are anxious about food security in the modern age how this question was dealt with 70 years ago BRIAN SHORT is Emeritus Professor of Historical Geography at the University of Sussex and formerly Dean of School and Head of the Department of Geography
