Schwebel, Jocelyn Van Tuyl, 2021-08-23 The oldest and most prestigious children's literature award the Newbery Medal has since 1922 been granted annually by the American Library Association to the children's book it deems most distinguished Medal books enjoy an outsized influence on American children's literature figuring perennially on publishers lists on library and bookstore shelves and in school curricula As such they offer a compelling window into the history of US children's literature and publishing as well as into changing societal attitudes about which books are best for America's schoolchildren. Yet literary scholars have disproportionately ignored the Medal winners in their research. This volume provides a critically and historically grounded scholarly analysis of representative but understudied Newbery Medal books from the 1920s through the 2010s, interrogating the disjunction between the books' omnipresence and influence on the one hand and the critical silence surrounding them on the other. Dust Off the Gold Medal makes a case for closing these scholarly gaps by revealing neglected texts, insights into the politics of children's literature, and by demonstrating how neglected titles illuminate critical debates currently central to the field of children's literature. In particular, the essays shed light on the hidden elements of diversity apparent in the neglected Newbery canon while illustrating how the books respond sometimes in quite subtle ways to contemporaneous concerns around race, class, gender, disability, nationalism, and globalism.

Teaching Reading to Black Adolescent Males Alfred W. Tatum, 2023-10-10
The racial achievement gap in literacy is one of the most difficult issues in education today, and nowhere does it manifest itself more perniciously than in the case of black adolescent males. Approaching the problem from the inside, author Alfred Tatum brings together his various experiences as a black male student, middle school teacher working with struggling black male readers, reading specialist in an urban elementary school, and staff developer in classrooms across the nation. His book Teaching Reading to Black Adolescent Males: Closing the Achievement Gap addresses the adolescent shift black males face and the societal experiences unique to them that can hinder academic progress. With an authentic and honest voice, Tatum bridges the connections among theory, instruction, and professional development to create a roadmap for better literacy achievement. He presents practical suggestions for providing reading strategy instruction and assessment that is explicit, meaningful, and culturally responsive, as well as guidelines for selecting and discussing nonfiction and fiction texts with black males. The author's first-hand insights provide middle school and high school teachers, reading specialists, and administrators with new perspectives to help schools move collectively toward the essential goal of literacy achievement for all.
