Learning to Live James W.H. Sell, 2015-03-23 This is the story of my journey through the ordained ministry of the Episcopal Church Much to my surprise it was a life that suited my values and personality like no other It began when the American culture was fueled by the norms and standards of institutional religion in the late 1950s and early 1960s From the time of my ordination in 1969 up until the present moment we have watched international and American church worship life decline year after year Today almost all denominations and faiths are retracting into an uncertain future It can be argued that at the current rate of decline the entire religious enterprise in America has less than one hundred years of life remaining Somehow my life has run counter to the trends and demographic realities by which we have been surrounded I discovered solid spiritual values that gave my life a sense of abundance At the same time every church I was a part of grew and flourished So contrary to the cries of the legions of naysayers I am nothing if not hopeful To be a Christian is to live with a sense that resurrections are at the very core of every history I believe that in very real ways we are just getting ready to return to our most ancient roots where once again on the fragile edge of society we will become a steady pathway to an abundant life and ultimately the driving force for liberation and justice If you wish to learn more about this book and its author please visit www.jameswhsell.com The Bookman, 1929 Argument of the Hon.
