We Met In September:

We Met in September Annmarie Sartor, 2015-01-02 Ned Ellion has it all. He's at the top of the business world. He has family and friends he cherishes and a beautiful wife he adores. He lives the literal lifestyle of the rich and famous. Little does he know that catastrophe lurks right around the corner and his life and all he holds dear will be threatened and tested again and again. We Met in September is a riveting story of love, loss, and hope, chronicling the rise to success and disappearance of international sailing magnet Ned Ellion. As her world spins out of control, Kathryn Chambers Ellion embarks on a frantic search for her missing husband, answers to impossible questions, and the touch of magic that only true love can inspire.

Genocide and Resistance in Southeast Asia Ben Kiernan, 2008 Two modern cases of genocide and extermination began in Southeast Asia in the same year. Pol Pot's Khmer Rouge regime ruled Cambodia from 1975 to 1979, and Indonesian forces occupied East Timor from 1975 to 1999. This book examines the horrific consequences of Cambodian communist revolution and Indonesian anti-communist counterinsurgency. It also chronicles the two cases of indigenous resistance to genocide and extermination, the international cover-ups that obstructed documentation of these crimes, and efforts to hold the perpetrators legally accountable. The perpetrator regimes inflicted casualties in similar proportions. Each caused the deaths of about one-fifth of the population of the nation. Cambodia's mortality was approximately 1.7 million, and approximately 170,000 perished in East Timor. In both cases, most of the deaths occurred in the five-year period from 1975 to 1980. In addition, Cambodia and East Timor not only shared the experience of genocide but also of civil war, international intervention, and UN conflict resolution. U.S. policymakers supported the invading Indonesians in Timor as well as the indigenous Khmer Rouge in Cambodia. Both regimes exterminated ethnic minorities, including local Chinese as well as political dissidents. Yet the ideological fuel that ignited each conflagration was quite different. Jakarta pursued anti-communism; the Khmer Rouge were communists. In East Timor, the major Indonesian goal was conquest. In Cambodia, the Khmer Rouge's goal was revolution. Maoist ideology influenced Pol Pot's regime, but it also influenced the East Timorese resistance to the Indonesia's occupiers. Genocide and Resistance in Southeast Asia is significant both for its historical documentation and for its contribution to the study of the politics and mechanisms of genocide. It is a fundamental contribution that will be read by historians, human rights activists, and genocide studies specialists.

Foreign Policy in Post-Genocide Rwanda Jonathan R. Beloff, 2020-07-29 This book examines how Rwandan elites within the government, private sector, and civil society perceive the nation's political and economic relationship with the international community. Using testimonies and interviews of Rwandan political, military, and economic leaders and bureaucrats this book examines the intersubjective beliefs that formulate how Rwanda engages with the international community The book presents and analyses three primary intersubjective themes historical and possible future abandonment of Rwanda implementing an ideology of agaciro to promote self respect dignity and self reliance for state security and economic development and the belief in the government s obligation to promote human security for those who identify as Rwandan These perceptions help us understand how post genocide Rwanda engages with the international community in the pursuit of state security economic development and to prevent a future genocide This book will be of interest to students and scholars of African politics and international relations as well as the politics of post genocide states
