Key Concepts in Public Archaeology Gabriel Moshenska,2017-09-28 This book provides a broad overview of the key concepts in public archaeology a research field that examines the relationship between archaeology and the public in both theoretical and practical terms While based on the long standing programme of undergraduate and graduate teaching in public archaeology at UCL's renowned Institute of Archaeology the book also takes into account the growth of scholarship from around the world and seeks to clarify what exactly public archaeology is by promoting an inclusive socially and politically engaged vision of the discipline Written for students and practitioners the individual chapters provide textbook level introductions to the themes theories and controversies that connect archaeology to wider society from the trade in illicit antiquities to the use of digital media in public engagement and point readers to the most relevant case studies and learning resources to aid their further study This book was produced as part of JISC's Institution as e Textbook Publisher project Find out more at <https://www.jisc.ac.uk/rd/projects/institution-as-e-textbook-publisher> Praise for Key Concepts in Archaeology Littered throughout with concise and well chosen case studies Key Concepts in Public Archaeology could become essential reading for undergraduates and is a welcome reminder of where archaeology sits in UK society today British Archaeology

The Politics of Environmental Discourse Maarten A. Hajer,1995-12-14 Dr Hajer's path breaking study opens the way for a better understanding of the environmental conflict showing how language can be seen to shape our view of what environmental politics is really about and how those perceptions can differ between countries The author identifies the emergence and increasing political importance of ecological modernization as a new concept in the language of environmental politics This concept which has come to replace the antagonistic debates of the 1970s stresses the opportunities of environmental policy for modernizing the economy and stimulating the technological innovation Combining abstract social theory with detailed empirical analysis Martin Hajer illustrates the social and political dynamics of ecological modernization in a detailed analysis of the acid rain controversies in Great Britain and the Netherlands He concludes by reflecting on the institutional challenge of the environmental politics in the years to come

Cities as Sustainable Ecosystems Peter Newman, Isabella Jennings, 2012-09-26 Modern city dwellers are largely detached from the environmental effects of their daily lives The sources of the water they drink the food they eat and the energy they consume are all but invisible often coming from other continents and their waste ends up in places beyond their city boundaries Cities as Sustainable Ecosystems shows how cities and their residents can begin to reintegrate into their bioregional environment and how cities themselves can be planned with nature's organizing principles in mind Taking cues from living systems for sustainability strategies Newman and Jennings reassess urban design by exploring flows of energy materials and information along with the interactions between human and non human parts of the system Drawing on examples from all corners of the world the authors explore natural patterns and processes that cities can emulate in order to move toward sustainability Some cities have adopted simple strategies such as harvesting rainwater greening roofs and producing renewable energy Others have created biodiversity parks for endangered species community gardens that support a connection to their foodshed and pedestrian friendly spaces that encourage walking and cycling A powerful model for urban redevelopment Cities as Sustainable Ecosystems describes aspects of urban ecosystems from the visioning process to achieving economic security to fostering a sense of place

Economic and Political Weekly, 1988 Environmental Politics in Japan, Germany, and the United States Miranda A. Schreurs, 2003-03-13 A decade of climate change negotiations almost ended in failure because of the different policy approaches of the industrialized states Japan Germany and the United States exemplify the deep divisions that exist among states in their approaches to environmental protection Germany is following what could be called the green social welfare state approach to environmental protection which is increasingly guided by what is known as the precautionary principle In contrast the US is increasingly leaning away from the use of environmental regulations towards the use of market based mechanisms to control pollution and cost benefit analysis to determine when environmental protection should take precedence over economic activities Internal political divisions mean that Japan sits uneasily between these two approaches Miranda A Schreurs uses a variety of case studies to explore why these different policy approaches emerged and what their implications are examining the differing ideas actors and institutions in each state

Engineering Systems Olivier L. De Weck, Daniel Roos, Christopher L. Magee, 2011 An overview of engineering systems that describes the new challenges posed for twenty first century engineers by today's highly complex sociotechnical systems Engineering for much of the twentieth century was mainly about artifacts and inventions Now it's increasingly about complex systems As the airplane taxis to the gate you access the Internet and check email with your PDA linking the communication and transportation systems At home you recharge your plug in hybrid vehicle linking transportation to the electricity grid Today's large scale highly complex sociotechnical systems converge interact and depend on each other in ways engineers of old could barely have imagined As scale scope and complexity increase engineers consider technical and social issues together in a highly integrated way as they design flexible adaptable robust systems that can be easily modified and reconfigured to satisfy changing requirements and new technological opportunities Engineering Systems offers a comprehensive examination of such systems and the associated emerging field of study Through scholarly discussion concrete examples and history the authors consider the engineer's changing role new ways to model and analyze these systems the impacts on engineering education and the future challenges of meeting human needs through the technologically enabled systems of today and tomorrow Agrekon, 1998 The Global Community Yearbook of International Law and Jurisprudence 2010 Volume I Giuliana Ziccardi Capaldo, 2012-03-15 a The set generally Please note that the following description applies to both volumes in the 2010 Yearbook not solely to Volume I The Global Community Yearbook is a one stop resource for all researchers studying international law generally or international criminal tribunals specifically The Global Community Yearbook appears annually in two volume editions of carefully chosen primary source material and corresponding expert commentary The general editor Professor Giuliana Ziccardi Capaldo employs her vast expertise in international law to select excerpts from important court opinions and also to choose experts from around the world who contribute essay guides to illuminate those cases Although the main focus is recent case law from the major international tribunals and regional courts the first volume of each year's edition always features expert articles by renowned scholars who address broader themes in international law themes that appear throughout the case law of the many courts covered by the series as a whole b This particular edition 2010 Beginning with the 2010 edition the Yearbook will include the new section Forum Jurisprudential Cross Fertilization An Annual Overview This section aims to compare and analyze the interconnections between the decisions of international courts and tribunals as a way of exploring and examining judicial dialogue and the development of common legal principles and concepts in all branches of international law The Yearbook is the first academic journal to present an annual overview of the process of jurisprudential cross fertilization between the courts based on the drafting and systematic classification of legal maxims i e points of law decided by various international courts in the section entitled Decisions of International Courts and Tribunals A comprehensive and complete survey by eminent international law scholars exploring evaluating and documenting this process has the potential to enhance our contribution and thus further guide our understanding of how to reduce conflicts and create an effective exchange of legal reasoning between different courts The aim is to promote a favorable environment for the courts to advance the process of judicial cooperation with a view to the possible harmonization of legal principles governing the global community c Individual volumes Volume 1 The 2010 edition of the Global Community Yearbook presents three categories of material wholly beneficial to any international law researcher International tribunals court opinions excerpted with scholarly skill by General

Editor Giuliana Ziccardi Capaldo expert guidance on those cases in the form of commentary by globally recognized luminaries whom Ziccardi has chosen personally and more broadly focused introductory essays by similarly prominent scholars whom Ziccardi has also selected for that purpose In the introductory essays those scholars take on current topics such as global intellectual property law and policy the nature of international law and human development and the legal political connotation of material support to terrorism These incisive and knowledgeable introductory articles help frame the debates currently raging in international law before this edition leads the reader on to expert commentary on the noteworthy cases from this past year s dockets of the following tribunals The International Court of Justice The International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea WTO Dispute Settlement System International Criminal Court International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda Court of Justice of the European Union Ziccardi has arranged the sections of this volume according to that list of tribunals and she has included a short targeted index for each of those sections making any research in this volume efficient and fruitful The 2010 edition of the Global Community Yearbook also gives researchers an illuminating tour through the varied and dynamic law of regional and organizational courts In the court opinion excerpts and expert commentary that fill this volume researchers will find detailed guidance on a rich diversity of legal topics On these questions and a host of others this volume provides to students scholars and practitioners alike a valuable combination of expert discussion and direct quotes from the court opinions to which that discussion relates The courts covered in this edition include The Court of Justice The European Court of Human Rights Inter American Court of Human Rights International Centre for the Settlement of Investment Disputes
