Language, Literacy and Diversity Christopher Stroud, Mastin Prinsloo, 2015-02-11 Language Literacy and Diversity brings together researchers who are leading the innovative and important re-theorization of language and literacy in relation to social mobility, multilingualism and globalization. The volume examines local and global flows of people, language and literacy in relation to social practice, the role and nature of boundary maintenance or disruption in global transnational and translocal contexts, and the lived experiences of individuals on the front lines of global transnational and translocal processes. The contributors pay attention to the dynamics of multilingualism in located settings and the social and personal management of multilingualism in socially stratified and ethnically plural social settings. Together they offer ground-breaking research on language practices and documentary practices as regards to access, selection, social mobility and gate-keeping processes in a range of settings across several continents: Africa, Asia, the Americas and Europe. Learning Spaces in Africa Ola Uduku, 2018-06-14 With a key UN Sustainable Development Goal for 2030 being to make basic education available to all the world's children, Learning Spaces in Africa explores the architectural, socio-political and economic policy factors that have contributed to school design, the main spaces for education and learning in Africa. It traces the development of school building design, focusing on Western and Southern Africa, from its emergence in the 19th century to the present day. Uduku's analysis draws attention to the past historic links of schools to development processes from their early 19th-century missionary origins to their re-emergence as development hubs in the 21st century. Learning Spaces in Africa uses this research as a basis to suggest fundamental changes to basic education which respond to new technological advances and constituencies in learning. Illustrated case studies describe the use of tablets in refugee community schools, hole-in-the-wall learning and shared school community learning spaces. This book will be beneficial for students, academics and those interested in the history of educational architecture and its effect on social development, particularly in Africa and with relevance to countries elsewhere in the emerging world. Teaching History and the Changing Nation State Robert Guyver, 2016-02-11 Capitalizing on the current movement in history education to nurture a set of shared methodologies and perspectives, this text looks to break down some of the obstacles to transnational understanding in history, focusing on pedagogy to embed democratic principles of inclusion, inquiry, multiple interpretations and freedom of expression. Four themes which are influencing the broadening of history education to a globalized community of practice run throughout Teaching History and the Changing Nation State: pedagogy, democracy and dialogue, the nation, politics and transnational dimensions, landmarks with questions, shared histories, shared commemorations and re-evaluating past denials. The contributors use the same pedagogical language in a global debate about history teaching and learning to break down barriers to search for shared histories and mutual understanding. They explore contemporary topics including The Gallipoli Campaign in World War I, transformative approaches to a school history curriculum and the nature of federation. Disaster

Management in Sub-Saharan Africa Roland Azibo Balgah, Jude Ndzifon Kimengsi, 2022-04-21 A combined analysis of all the chapters provides an interesting summary and information for creating disaster management policies for improved results in SSA With an extensive glossary of terms and index the book lends itself to specialized academics and students but also to disaster management policy makers and practitioners

Research for Educational Change Jill Adler, Anna Sfard, 2016-06-17 Research for Educational Change presents ways in which educational research can fulfil its commitments to educational practice Focussing its discussion within the context of mathematics education it argues that while research generated insights can have beneficial effects on learning and teaching the question of how these effects are to be generated and sustained is far from evident The question of how to turn research into educational improvement is discussed here in the context of learning and teaching hindered by poverty and social injustice In the first part of the book four teams of researchers use different methodologies while analysing the same corpus of data collected in a South African mathematics classroom In the second part each of these teams makes a specific proposal about what can be done and how so that its research generated insights have a tangible beneficial impact on what is happening in mathematical classrooms Combining two discourses that of researchers speaking to one another and that of researchers communicating their insights to those responsible for educational practice the book deals with the perennial question of communication between those who study educational processes and those who are directly responsible for teacher education educational research and classroom practices This book will be key reading for postgraduates researchers and academics in education and particularly in the areas of mathematics education education research teacher education and classroom practice It will also appeal to teacher educators practitioners and undergraduate students interested in educational research

Pieterse, 2010 The City of Cape Town is heading for disaster and is already in deep crisis if one cares to look close enough The recent proliferation of public construction public squares and public housing along the N2 towards the airport is little more than a mirage compared with the direction of more underlying trends Cape Town's grim future is born out of the confluence of the globalised economic and ecological collapse that is fast becoming the defining feature of the twenty first century It is manifested most starkly in the dire situation that faces the majority of the city's residents who are excluded from the formal economy and must rely on substandard public services and their own makeshift shelters The scenario is serious enough to draw everyone's attention but should be set against the broader issues of long term economic resilience and environmental sustainability to achieve a low carbon society so we have our work cut out for us The purpose of this volume is to demystify these challenges and present readers with a creative portfolio of thinking practice and strong vision to show that we can find alternatives and moreover that these alternatives are already emerging in marginal sections of the state civil society and the business sectors Introduction The world of learning, 1948 Yearbook of International Organizations 2014-2015 (Volume 3) Union Of International Associations, Union of International Associations, 2014-08-20 The Yearbook of International Organizations provides the most extensive coverage of non profit international organizations currently available Detailed profiles of international non governmental and intergovernmental organizations IGO collected and documented by the Union of International Associations can be found here In addition to the history aims and activities of international organizations with their events publications and contact details the volumes of the Yearbook include networks between associations biographies of key people involved and extensive statistical data Volume 3 allows readers to locate organizations by subjects or by fields of activity and specialization and includes an index to Volumes 1 through 3
