Year Of The Black Pony Living History Library:

Year of the Black Pony Walt Morey, 2006-05-04 The Fellows family has joined numerous others striving to make a go of homesteading in the Oregon high desert But the venture has been disastrous from the start Mr Fellows who is not a farmer resents any advice from his wife who grew up on a farm Ma is not only troubled about the farming but 7 year old Ellie s chronic illness has become a source of constant worry and expense 12 year old Chris who cannot seem to please his father no matter what he does eases his own misery by stealing time away from work to watch a neighbor s scarcely broken black pony only to get into more trouble When it seems circumstances could not get worse for the struggling family Fellows gets drunk and dies Not willing to give up Ma stubbornly and creatively seeks a way for the family to stay in Oregon Frank Chase an unintentional element in the death of Chris s father is added to the mix and challenged by Ma to keep his word to help the family The resultant dramatic and sometimes humorous contest of wills comes to a satisfying culmination when after Frank s purchase of the wild black pony for Chris Ma is reluctantly forced to once again use her backbone of steel for the good of all Walt Morey s careful research and vivid storytelling talent warmly bring to life the struggles and triumphs of homesteading in the Oregon high desert country in the early 1900 s
