You Can't Get Lost in Cape Town Zoë Wicomb, 2015-04-25 The South African novel of identity that deserves a wide audience on a par with Nadine Gordimer

You Can't Get Lost in Cape Town Zoë Wicomb, 2000 The South African novel of identity that deserves a wide audience on a par with Nadine Gordimer

Black/White Writing Pauline Fletcher, 1993 The volume closes with an essay by Gerald Monsman that takes the reader back to an earlier South Africa examining Olive Schreiner's writing in the broader context of other stories from an imperialist past Two poems by Dennis Brutus open the volume They speak eloquently of human suffering and the desire for peace

Realism, Form and the Postcolonial Novel N. Robinette, 2014-06-11 Confronted with apartheid dictatorship or the sheer scale of global economics realism can no longer function with the certainties of the nineteenth century Free Realist Style considers how the style of the realist novel changes as its epistemological horizons narrow

The South African Short Story in English, 1920-2010 Marta Fossati, 2024-09-05 Through detailed close readings alongside investigations into the history of print culture Marta Fossati traces the development of the South African short story in English from the late 1920s to the first decade of the twenty first century She examines a selection of short stories by important Black South African writers Rolfes and Herbert Dhlomo Peter Abrahams Can Themba Alex La Guma Mtutuzeli Matshoba Ahmed Essop and Zo Wicomb with an alertness to the dialogue between ethics and aesthetics performed by these texts This new history of Black short fiction problematises and interrogates the often polarised readings of Black literature in South Africa that can be torn between notions of literariness protest and journalism Due to material constraints short fiction in South Africa circulated first and foremost through local print media which Fossati analyses in detail to show the cross fertilisation between journalism and the short story While rooted in the South African context the short stories considered also hold a translocal dimension allowing us to explore the ethical and aesthetic practice of intertextuality These are writings that complicate the aesthetics ethics binary generic classifications and the categories of the literary and the political Theoretically eclectic in its approach although largely underpinned by a narratological analysis The South African Short Story in English 1920 2010 When Aesthetics Meets Ethics offers a fresh perspective on the South African short story in English spotlighting several hitherto marginalised figures in South African literary studies

Snow on the Cane Fields Judith L. Raiskin, 1996 Snow on the Cane Fields was first published in 1995 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions In a probing analysis of creole women's writing over the past century Judith Raiskin explores the workings and influence of cultural and linguistic colonialism Tracing the transnational and racial meanings of creole identity Raiskin looks at four English speaking writers from South Africa and the Caribbean Olive Schreiner Jean Rhys Michelle Cliff and Zo Wicomb She examines their work in light of the discourses of their times nineteenth century race science and imperialistic rhetoric turn of the century anti Semitic sentiment and feminist pacifism postcolonial theory and apartheid legislation In their writing and in their multiple identities these women highlight the gendered nature of race citizenship culture and the language of literature Raiskin shows how each writer expresses her particular ambivalences and divided loyalties both enforcing and challenging the proprietary British perspective on colonial history culture and language A new perspective on four writers and their uneasy places in colonial culture Snow on the Cane Fields reveals the value of pursuing a feminist approach to questions of national political and racial identity Judith Raiskin is assistant professor of women s studies at the University of California Santa Barbara Apartheid Narratives ,2021-10-25 In an engaging and dynamic collection of essays on South African writing an international cast of contributors pay detailed attention to the shifting parameters of scholarly debates on apartheid and the apartheid era Investigating a range of literary and critical perspectives on a period that shaped the literature of South Africa for much of the twentieth century the contributors offer a rich survey The volume focuses on internationally acclaimed writers Nadine Gordimer and J M Coetzee as well as those writers who are yet to receive sustained critical attention Mtutuzeli Matshoba Alex La Guma Bessie Head Ahmed Essop Ronnie Govender Apartheid Narratives will be welcomed by academics and students of South African writing as a stimulating collection which maps the literary terrain of apartheid

The Routledge Handbook of the New African Diasporic Literature Lokangaka Losambe,Tanure Ojaide,2024-05-16 The Routledge Handbook of the New African Diasporic Literature introduces world literature readers to the transnational multivocal writings of immigrant African authors Covering works produced in Europe North America and elsewhere in the world this book investigates three major aesthetic paradigms in African diasporic literature the Sankofan wave late 1960s early 1990s the Janusian wave 1990s 2020s and the Offshoots of the New Arrivants those born and growing up outside Africa Written by well established and emerging scholars of African and diasporic literatures from across the world the chapters in the book cover the works of well known and not so well known Anglophone Francophone and Lusophone writers from different theoretical positionalities and critical approaches pointing out the unique innovative artistic qualities of this major subgenre of African literature The focus on the diasporic consciousness of the writers and their works sets this handbook apart from others that solely emphasize migration which is more of a process than the community of settled African people involved in the dynamic acts of living reflected in diasporic writings This book will appeal to researchers and students from across the fields of Literature Diaspora Studies African Studies Migration Studies and Postcolonial Studies

Prose of the World Saikat Majumdar,2013-01-08 Everyday life in the far outposts of empire can be static empty of the excitement of progress A pervading sense of banality and boredom are therefore common elements of the daily experience for people living on the colonial periphery Saikat Majumdar suggests that this impoverished affective experience of colonial modernity significantly shapes the innovative aesthetics of modernist fiction Prose of the World explores the global life of this narrative aesthetic from late colonial modernism to the present day focusing on a writer each from Ireland New Zealand South Africa and India Ranging from James Joyce s deflated epiphanies to Amit Chaudhuri s disavowal of the grand spectacle of postcolonial national allegories Majumdar foregrounds the banal as a key instinct of modern and contemporary fiction one that nevertheless remains submerged because of its antithetical relation to literature s intuitive function to engage or excite Majumdar asks us to rethink the assumption that banality merely indicates an aesthetic failure If narrative is traditionally enabled by the tremor velocity and excitement of the event the historical and affective lack implied by the banal produces a narrative force that is radically new precisely because it suspends the conventional impulses of narration

The Postcolonial Bildungsroman Arnab Dutta Roy,Paul Ugor,2025-11-06 Offering a fresh comparative lens this volume demonstrates how postcolonial writers have transformed the Bildungsroman from an eighteenth century European genre meant to explore local themes around childhood development into one of the most cosmopolitan literary mediums for communicating overlapping concerns about global modernity Chapters examine identity sexuality human rights the climate crisis neoliberal globalization and a host of other issues in work from a wide range of postcolonial locations across Asia Europe Africa the Americas Australia and New Zealand Forging productive engagements between narratology and genre theory the volume documents the aesthetic and thematic shifts that have accompanied the Bildungsroman over time particularly in the context of anticolonial liberationist and self determination struggles from the mid twentieth century onwards in the Global South With essays from multiple continents The Postcolonial Bildungsroman makes a crucial intervention to the existing scholarship on this influential genre and a unique contribution to the study of world literature
