Seeking Urban Transformation Muchadenyika, Davison, 2020-02-16 Seeking Urban Transformation Alternative Urban Futures in Zimbabwe tells the stories of ordinary people's struggles to remake urban centres. It interrogates and highlights the principle conditions in which urban transformation takes place. The main catalysts of the transformation are social movements and planning institutions. Social movements pool resources and skills, acquire land, install infrastructure and build houses. Planning institutions change policies, regulations and traditions to embrace and support a new form of urban development driven by grassroots movements. Besides providing a comprehensive analysis of planning and housing in Zimbabwe, there is a specific focus on three urban centres of Harare, Chitungwiza and Epworth. In metropolitan Harare, the book examines new housing and infrastructure series to the predominantly urban poor population, vital roles played by the urban poor in urban development and the adoption by planning institutions of grassroots centered urban planning approaches. The book draws from three case studies and in-depth interviews from diverse urban shapers, i.e. representatives and members of social movements, urban planners, engineers, surveyors, policy makers, politicians, civil society workers and students to generate a varied selection of insights and experiences. Based on the Zimbabwean experience, the book illustrates how actions and power of ordinary people contribute to the transformation of African cities.

European Criminal Law Kai Ambos, 2018-06-07 Since their creation, the European Union and the Council of Europe have worked to harmonise the justice systems of their member states. This project has been met with a series of challenges. European Criminal Law offers a compelling insight into the development and functions of European criminal law. It tracks the historical development of European criminal law, offering a detailed critical analysis of the criminal justice systems responsible for its implementation. While the rapid expansion and transnationalisation of criminal law is a necessary response to the growing numbers of free movement of persons and goods, it has serious implications for the rights of European citizens and needs to be balanced with rights protections. With its close analysis of secondary legislation and reliance on a wide variety of original sources, this book provides a thorough understanding of European Criminal Law and the institutions involved.

Vehicular Cloud Computing for Traffic Management and Systems Grover, Jyoti, Vinod, P., Lal, Chhagan, 2018-06-22 Road accidents caused by impaired and distracted driving, as well as traffic congestion, are on the rise, with the numbers increasing dramatically every day. Intelligent transportation systems (ITS) aim to improve the efficiency and safety of traveling by consolidating vehicle operations, managing vehicle traffic and notifying drivers with alerts and safety messages in real time. Vehicular Cloud Computing for Traffic Management and Systems provides innovative research on the rapidly advancing applications of vehicle-to-vehicle and vehicle-to-infrastructure communication. It also covers the need to fully utilize vehicular ad hoc network (VANET) resources to provide updated and dynamic information about the conditions of road traffic so that the number of road accidents can be minimized. Introduction to Gender Studies in Eastern and Southern Africa James Etim, 2016-07-28 Africa has witnessed massive changes in the last fifty years from independence through structural adjustment rule by military juntas in several countries and to a period now where the focus is on how best to prioritize their needs based on resources national goals and human potential There is general agreement that human capital is important in economic growth and development There is always the need to ensure that resources and human capital are used appropriately to advance development Gender disparities whether in treatment access to resources resource utilization and the law may in themselves retard or slow down development Resources and human potential in all societies include how best to ensure there is no gender disparity and to fully tap the resources inherent in women for personal social and national development Beginning with the women's suffrage movement there has been the push to encourage gender equality worldwide The Fourth World Conference on Women in Beijing in 1995 embodies the commitment of the international community to implement policies that will enhance the political social economic educational empowerment of women This book highlights the issues affecting women in Eastern and Southern Africa what role does custom and patriarchy play in gender disparities in education access to health problems in the workplace and family relationships How have women writers in the last twenty years presented the issues of patriarchy women's rights globalism and women's holistic development What are recent developments that have helped improve the situation for some women These are some of the issues that are covered in this book The thesis of this book is that there have been policies and strategies developed that have worked to empower women However vestiges of sexism gender disparities in several fields still remain and traditions customs and patriarchy have aided in still keeping women down div div

Centrist Anti-Establishment Parties and Their Struggle for Survival Sarah Engler, 2023-10-18 How do parties survive when newness is their only selling point This scholarly volume explores the most successful group of new political parties in Central and Eastern Europe centrist anti establishment parties CAPs These parties often claim to be neither left nor right strongly criticize the political establishment and instead promise corruption free politics Initially extremely successful many CAPs do not survive more than a few consecutive elections while others do endure As the first book length study on this type of party Sarah Engler explores this question and focuses on CAPs electoral strategies after their first elections It derives three strategies of survival that lead to more sustainable electoral support a reframed protest strategy an anti corruption strategy and a mainstream strategy Combining quantitative data from an original expert survey with qualitative evidence from elite interviews with MPs party officials and anti corruption experts the author demonstrates that CAPs only survive when they abandon their initial strategy of pure protest While strategic change is necessary for party survival several failed attempts at transformation show that it is not sufficient Ideology seemingly irrelevant to CAPs initial successes eventually determines CAPs fates Engler also examines how these findings have implications for other European countries Comparative Politics is a series for researchers teachers and students of political science that deals with contemporary government and politics Global in scope books in the series are characterized by a stress on comparative analysis and strong methodological rigour The series is published in association with the European Consortium for Political Research For more information visit www.ecprnet.eu The series is edited by Nicole Bolleyer Chair of Comparative Political Science Geschwister Scholl Institut LMU Munich and Jonathan Slapin Professor of Political Institutions and European Politics Department of Political Science University of Zurich

Neo-race Realities in the Obama Era Heather E. Harris, 2019-05-01 Neo race Realities in the Obama Era expands the discourse about Barack Obama's two terms as president by reflecting upon the impact of neo racism during his tenure Continually in conversation with tienne Balibar's conceptualization of neo racism as being racism without race the contributors examine how identities become the target of neo racist discriminatory practices and policies in the United States Individual chapters explore how President Obama's multiple and intersecting identities beyond the racial binaries of Black and White were perceived as well as how his presence impacted certain marginalized groups in our society as a result of his administration's policies Evidencing the hegemonic complexity of neo racism in the United States the contributors illustrate how the mythic post race society that many wished for on election night in 2008 was deferred in order to return to the uncomfortable comfort zone of the way America used to be
