adaptation of Maurice Sendak's classic work Dave Eggers brings an imaginary world vividly to life telling the story of a lonely boy navigating the emotional journey away from boyhood The City in American Literature and Culture Kevin R. McNamara, 2021-08-05 The city's Americanness has been disputed throughout US history Pronounced dead in the late twentieth century cities have enjoyed a renaissance in the twenty first Engaging the history of urban promise and struggle as represented in literature film and visual arts and drawing on work in the social sciences The City in American Literature and Culture examines the large and local forces that shape urban space and city life and the street level activity that remakes culture and identities as it contests injustice and separation The first two sections examine a range of city spaces and lives the final section brings the city into conversation with Marxist geography critical race studies trauma theory slow systemic violence security theory posthumanism and critical regionalism with a coda on city literature and democracy Mapping Generations of Traumatic Memory in American Narratives Dana Mihăilescu, Roxana Oltean, Mihaela Precup, 2014-06-12 This volume collects work by several European North American and Australian academics who are interested in examining the performance and transmission of post traumatic memory in the contemporary United States The contributors depart from the interpretation of trauma as a unique exceptional event that shatters all systems of representation as seen in the writing of early trauma theorists like Cathy Caruth Shoshana Felman and Dominick LaCapra Rather the chapters in this collection are in conversation with more recent readings of trauma such as Michael Rothberg's multidirectional memory 2009 the role of mediation and remediation in the dynamics of cultural memory Astrid Erll 2012 Aleida Assman 2011 and Stef Craps focus on postcolonial witnessing and its cross cultural dimension 2013 The corpus of post traumatic narratives under discussion includes fiction diaries memoirs films visual narratives and oral testimonies A complicated dialogue between various and sometimes conflicting narratives is thus generated and examined along four main lines in this volume trauma in the context of multidirectional memory the representation of trauma in autobiographical texts the dynamic of public forms of national commemoration and the problematic instantiation of 9 11 as a traumatic landmark Rooting Memory, Rooting Place C. Lloyd, 2015-06-04 This timely and incisive study reads contemporary literature and visual culture from the American South through the lens of cultural memory Rooting texts in their regional locations the book interrupts and questions the dominant trends in Southern Studies providing a fresh and nuanced view of twenty first century texts We Are All Survivors Carl Lindahl, Michael Dylan Foster, Kate Parker Horgan, 2022-09-06 What is the role of folklore in the discussion of catastrophe and trauma How do disaster survivors use language ritual and the material world to articulate their experiences What insights and tools can the field of folkloristics offer survivors for navigating and narrating disaster and its aftermath Can folklorists contribute to broader understandings of empathy and the roles of listening in ethnographic work We Are All Survivors is a collection of essays exploring the role of folklore in the wake of disaster Contributors include scholars from the United States and Japan who have long worked with disaster stricken communities or are disaster survivors themselves

Consuming Katrina Kate Parker Horgan, 2018-06-04 When and under what circumstances are disaster survivors able to speak for themselves in the public arena In Consuming Katrina Public Disaster and Personal Narrative author Kate Parker Horgan shows how the public understands and remembers large scale disasters like Hurricane Katrina outlining which stories are remembered and why as well as the impact on public memory and the survivors themselves Horgan discusses unique contexts in which personal narratives about the storm are shared including interviews with survivors Dave Eggers s Zeitoun Josh Neufeld s A D New Orleans After the Deluge Tia Lessin and Carl Deal s Trouble the Water and public commemoration during Hurricane Katrina s tenth anniversary in New Orleans In each case survivors initially present themselves in specific ways counteracting negative stereotypes that characterize their communities However when adapted for public presentation their stories get reduced back to those stereotypes As a result people affected by Katrina continue to be seen in limited terms as either undeserving or incapable of managing recovery This project is rooted in Horgan s experiences living in New Orleans before and after Katrina but it is also a case study illustrating an ongoing problem and an innovative solution survivors stories should be shared in a way that includes their own engagement with the processes of narrative production circulation and reception When survivors are seen as agents in their own stories they will be seen as agents in their own recovery Having a better grasp on the processes of narration and memory is critical for improved disaster response because the stories that are most widely shared about disaster determine how communities recover

Narratives of Hurricane Katrina in Context Arin Keeble, 2019-05-29 This book analyzes six key narratives of Hurricane Katrina across literature film and television from the literary fiction of Jesmyn Ward to the cinema of Spike Lee It argues that these texts engage with the human tragedy and political fallout of the Katrina crisis while simultaneously responding to issues that have characterized the wider George W Bush era of American history notably the aftermath of 9 11 and ensuing War on Terror In doing so it recognizes important challenges to trauma studies as an interpretive framework opening up a discussion of the overlaps between traumatic rupture and systemic or slow violence

After Katrina Anna Hartnell, 2017-01-25 Argues that post Katrina New Orleans is a key site for exploring competing narratives of American decline and renewal at the beginning of the twenty first century Through the lens provided by the tenth anniversary of Hurricane Katrina After Katrina argues that the city of New Orleans emerges as a key site for exploring competing narratives of US decline and renewal at the beginning of the twenty first century Deploying an interdisciplinary approach to explore cultural representations of the post storm city Anna Hartnell suggests that New Orleans has been reimaged as a laboratory for a racialized neoliberalism and as such might be seen as a terminus of the American dream This US disaster zone has unveiled a network of social and environmental crises that demonstrate that prospects of social mobility have dwindled as environmental degradation and coastal erosion emerge as major threats not just to the quality of life but to the possibility of life in coastal communities across America and the world And yet After Katrina also suggests that New Orleans culture offers a way of thinking about the United States in terms that transcend the binary of national renewal or declension The post Hurricane city thus emerges as a flashpoint for reflecting on the contemporary United States

The Postethnic Literary Florian Sedlmeier, 2014-12-11 The book explores the discursive and theoretical conditions for conceptualizing the postethnic literary It historicizes US multicultural and postcolonial studies as institutionalized discursive formations which constitute a paratext that regulates the reception of literary texts according to the paradigm of representativeness Rather than following that paradigm the study offers an alternative framework by rereading contemporary literary texts for their investment in literary form By means of self reflective intermedial transpositions the writings of Sherman Alexie Chang rae Lee and Jamaica Kincaid insist upon a differentiation between the representation of cultural sign systems or subject positions and the dramatization of individual gestures of authorship As such they form a postethnic literary constellation further probed in the epilogue of the study focused on Dave Eggers
