

Later on, we went for a long walk and chatted about what we both had done during the years that we had been apart. He was returning to Australia where he was studying the very next day and I knew that I was going to miss him more than ever. After buying me a chocolate ice-cream cone, he reached me back to school. I hugged him close and thanked him for giving me a wonderful time. It was one of my best Saturdays.

My Experience At High School

I liked to tell jokes when I entered high school. I was very lazy for the first three years. My class teacher was angry with me all the time because he didn't like my jokes. In particular, he always told me, "You are not only a lousy joker, but you are also a lazy student." I didn't care about what he said, but I decided to change my behaviour. I became more studious and did my work in time. Everybody was satisfied with my new behaviour.

In the fourth year I became vice-president of my class. I was proud because my classmates voted for me. As a result of their trust, I worked very hard for my class. That year we wanted to go on a trip. At the end of the school year we did not have enough money raised, so we decided to keep it instead.

In the fifth and sixth year I was elected president of my class. My classmates and I participated in many activities. In two years we earned a lot of money. Before we graduated, we went on a trip to the Annapurna Base Camp. We enjoyed it and we became very good friends.

I learned to be constant in my goals. I was never affected by the words of my class teacher. Instead I always believed in myself. I had enough strength to face the challenges in my high school life. Now, I have a big challenge- that is to attend A-Level. However, my first challenge is to get good grades in this semester and learn English very well.
