HRM in the Global South Toyin Ajibade Adisa, Chima Mordi, 2022-05-16 This edited collection offers an insight into the dynamic of HRM in thirteen developing countries across Africa, Asia, and the Middle East. Taking readers through the realities of HRM in the global South, the book identifies the significance of contexts, diversity of cultures, and dissimilarity of processes in managing people. In other words, the book addresses general issues of HRM in cross-national settings to give readers an understanding of HR that is comparative and country-specific. Covering issues in Nigeria, South Africa, Egypt, China, India, Pakistan, Malaysia, Bahrain, Jordan, United Arab Emirates, and Argentina, each chapter draws out the unique and diverse configurations of HRM in each country. Also examining digital HRM, technology-based entrepreneurship, gig work, artificial intelligence, and digitalization in business practice, this book is an invaluable resource for all HRM practitioners, policymakers, students, HRM scholars, international HRM, international business, and business managers across the globe. SOCRATES Alavi Zunnoorain Haider, Duguma Hailu Waktole, Prasenjit Ghosh, Alexandros Schismenos, Ioannis Rigkos, Richard Fosu, 2016-07-09 This issue of Socrates has been divided into five sections. The first section of this issue is Language Literature/Persian. The article in this section introduces a Manuscript that highlights the 18th Century History of Awadh, India. The second section of this issue is Anthropology. The article in this section provides the role of weaving activity in socio-cultural life of Oromo society in general and Macca Oromo in particular. It also highlights how weavers play a great role in preservation of cultural heritage, employment creation, tourist attraction, and environmental protection in these areas. The third section of this issue is History. The paper in this section is the excerpt of the UGC Minor Research Project under the financial help of the University Grants Commission carried out in the year 2014. This paper highlights Political identities and dilemma in Jharkhand Movement, India, and raises Questions of environmental revivalism and its consequences. The fourth section of this issue is Philosophy. The first article in this section tries to demonstrate that the emergence of the Internet refutes any claims posed by neurologists on the traditional epistemological field of philosophy proceeding from this ontological decision, the equation of human cognition to cybernetic systems. The paper also explores some social semantic aspects of the cyberspace as a nexus of social representations of the individual identity that forms a new sphere of being where the subjective and the objective merge in a virtual subjective objectivity with unique epistemological attributes and possibilities The second article of this section deals with the question of how and why the civilizations of modernity construct social realities that fundamentally and institutionally are socio politically unequal unsustainable and that ecologically these societies reproduce unequal exchange of human social and environmental resources and information Moreover it tries to position an alternative pathway for radical and democratic transformation through the project of autonomy influenced from the struggle for the commons as a protest against the commodification and monetarization of the whole of our existence It aims to expand the knowledge about the struggle of social movements as well as exposing the endless possibilities humanity have to re imagine an autonomous present and a sustainable future The fifth section of this issue is Politics Law and Governance which contains an article that dwells on the experiences of India in the software and pharmaceutical industries to argue for the need for policy space in technology evolution

Interdisciplinary Approaches in Management Education Tanusree Chakraborty, Ramandeep Saini, Rajiv Khosla, Nandita Mishra, Ashok Natarajan, 2024-11-22. Educational institutions have invested greatly in the introduction and development of new teaching methods in recent years, especially during and after the pandemic. Despite these new approaches, relevant questions related to learning objectives, suitable methodologies, and impact assessment remain unanswered. This book, Interdisciplinary Approaches in Managerial Education, aims to address these unanswered questions regarding best practices, laboratory methods, policies, and protocols in the areas of education and managerial training. The book covers several topics related to practical approaches to managerial education and training. It provides detailed explanations in relation to active methodologies such as problem-based learning (PBL), co-creation, team-based learning (TBL), etc. This book takes an integrated approach towards the new paradigm of management education, ensuring that both teacher and student comprehend the interdisciplinary approach between ideas and concepts across different domains of study. The book presents 16 chapters on various themes to consolidate the understanding of interdisciplinary management education. It includes chapters relating to employability, digitalization, and digital technologies, and sustainability, providing not just an introduction to these factors in an interdisciplinary approach but also a look at the future of management education due to the ever-growing requirement of interdisciplinarity. Topics include hybrid teaching tools such as gamification in management education, role of applied mathematics in financial management education, how management education can lead to achieving sustainable development goals, the impact of ITC in managerial education during times of economic crisis, strengthening industry-academia linkages, industry demands in terms of employability skills among management students.

and more This book will enrich its readers with contemporary ideas on interdisciplinary management education and world wide best practices Primarily geared toward an academic audience academics university teachers researchers and post graduate students this book will also be of benefit to public and private institutions educational developers and researchers in managerial training education
