Teacher Appreciation Message From Principal:

Leading from the Trenches Stephen V. Newton, 2018-10-16 School leaders know that instructional leadership is a crucial aspect of education. However, many of those leaders lack the knowledge and credibility to lead this work. Leaders must be empowered to enter into and guide instructional conversations while building leadership capacity of their teachers in the process. It is easy for administrators to get caught up in the daily managerial tasks of running a school. Passionate educators become principals, however, to make a positive impact on the classroom opportunities and experiences of young people. Because principals may not be experts in all areas of instruction, they must develop their own skills to become genuine participants in instructional conversations. However, the task of a true leader is also to develop the leadership capacity of those around them to ensure that best practices are embraced in all classrooms. The most important and consequential work in schools is happening in the trenches. Principals must commit to join their teachers in that space. With these new skills and a renewed commitment to genuine instructional leadership, administrators can work collaboratively with teachers to transform the educational experience of all students. The Principal as Chief Empathy Officer Thomas R.

Hoerr, 2022-01-25 What role does empathy play in your success as a school leader? A principal's skills, knowledge, and experience are important when it comes to leading schools. But whether interacting with staff, students, or parents, principals also need empathy, a key social-emotional skill to be effective and drive continuous improvement. In this book, veteran school leader Thomas R. Hoerr makes the case for why schools need a Chief Empathy Officer as principal and how to become one. Discover how to grow your own empathy as well as that of others and the enormous positive effect this can have on your school. Explore how to view differences of opinion as opportunities to learn. And learn how empathy can help you build strong relationships with and among staff members. Better connect with students and parents. Reduce conflict by eliminating problems before they get out of hand. Model and pursue the crucial issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion. Improve instructional leadership. Hoerr includes self-assessment and feedback tools, strategies for incorporating empathy schoolwide, and lively anecdotes that will walk you through the do's and don'ts of empathic leadership. If you're interested in taking your leadership skills up a notch or two or three, The Principal as Chief Empathy Officer is for you. Survival Skills for the Principalship

John Blaydes, 2004-01-22 A great book designed to lighten the load of school administrators filled with practical, easy-to-implement strategies, short-cuts, time-savers, and sample forms and letters. A valuable reference guide for effective school leadership. Fran Madison Cohee, NAESP California State Representative, Principal, White Oak Elementary, CA. If you are looking for insight, rejuvenation, and thoughtful practical strategies for success in your role as a school leader, look no further. John Blaydes helps us remember why we became educators, why we want to continue, and why inspirational leadership is essential to schools. Jane Foley, Vice President, National Educator Awards, Milken Family Foundation, Santa Monica, CA. Clearly, Blaydes planned well as he linked the themes from one chapter to the next. It will, no doubt, be a valued tool for school administrators.
