Lamb, Jennifer M. Parrott, 2019-03-13 As digital reading has become more productive and active the lines between reading and writing become more blurred This book offers both an exploration of collaborative reading and pedagogical strategies for teaching reading and writing that reflect the realities of digital literacies This edited scholarly collection offers strategies for teaching reading and writing that highlight the possibilities opportunities and complexities of digital literacies Part 1 explores reading and writing that happen digitally and offers frameworks for thinking about this process Part 2 focuses on strategies for the classroom by applying reading theories design principles and rhetorical concepts to instruction Part 3 introduces various disciplinary implications for this blended approach to writing instruction What is emerging is new theories and practices of reading in both print and digital spaces theories that account for how diverse student readers encounter and engage digital texts This collection contributes to this work by offering strategies for sustaining reading and cultivating writing in this landscape of changing digital literacies The book is essential for the professional development of beginning teachers who will appreciate the historical and bibliographic overview as well as classroom strategies and for busy veteran teachers who will gain updated knowledge and a renewed commitment to teaching an array of literacy skills It will be ideal for graduate seminars in composition theory and pedagogy both undergraduate and graduate and teacher education courses and will be key reading for scholars in rhetoric and composition interested in composition history assessment communication studies and literature pedagogy Left Behind Edward P. St. John, Victoria J. Milazzo Bigelow, Kim Callahan Lijana, Johanna C. Massé, 2015-11-30 Urban schools are falling short of preparing students for college In Left Behind a team of education scholars led by Edward P St John argues that American cities have been engaged for the past three decades in a radical but failing effort to transform general and vocational high schools into college preparatory institutions By examining the educational reforms in four urban charter schools across the United States and four public high schools in New York City Left Behind reveals how educators contend with the challenge of developing new courses while providing social support for students to build college going cultures The research shows that district schools struggle to comply with standards that leave little room to develop advanced thematic curricula and that charter schools have not succeeded in substantially raising student test scores Many students who start in rigorous charter schools transfer back to public schools while both public and charter schools struggle to prepare their students for college level work Left Behind provides crucial insights into the troubling trajectory of public policy while offering teachers and administrators effective strategies for overcoming barriers

How to Align Literacy Instruction, Assessment, and Standards Nancy L. Akhavan, 2004 In this book Nancy Akhavan details the stories and strategies that enabled her school to move from under performing status to one in which students achieve and teachers have a whole new understanding of targeted instruction sensitive assessment and meaningful curriculum There is much to appreciate in what she says from her attention to thinking small and understanding the power of the details her emphasis on planning and goal setting to the seriousness with which she takes the standards and incorporates them into the life of the classroom Drawing on the work of the best in the business Lucy Calkins David and Yvonne Freeman and Tony Alvarado Akhavan made professional development the heartbeat of her school as she helped her faculty understand that their work begins and ends with continuous assessment of their students Now she helps readers of her book learn how child centered assessment leads to strategic instruction how to best support multilingual learners how to organize for yearlong learning how to think through precise workshop instruction in minilessons how to develop meaningful curriculum around units of study how to create a vibrant school community where standards and accountability stem from regular assessment and examination of instructional practices Akhavan provides immediately useful information for any elementary teacher principal or curriculum developer Read her book and understand how to use standards as a way to connect meaningful instruction to students not as a bar that students have to reach or a barrier to real teaching and learning

Shades of Meaning Donna Santman,2005 Donna Santman shows you how to teach readers the skills and strategies of comprehension and interpretation within the framework of a reading workshop Reading, Writing, and Literacy 2.0 Denise Johnson,2014 In today s high stakes testing environment integrating technology into the curriculum is often seen as something extra or for use with a few special projects With the growth in Internet use by even the youngest children educators urgently need a practical introduction to online literacy and reading comprehension Reading Writing and Literacy 2 0 offers that and more by providing tools and teaching strategies for incorporating online reading and writing into classroom learning as well as a host of web resources that teachers can draw on to make this happen All this without endless hours of searching Denise Johnson s book connects to the Common Core State Standards and is organized around the Technological Literacy Assessment of the National Assessment of Education Progress NAEP which focuses on three areas that characterize a technologically literate person knowledge capabilities and critical thinking and decision making This resource provides everything reading teachers need to begin using technology to deepen and enrich literacy learning for all students In addition the author maintains a companion blog to update and add helpful teaching links Book Features An explanation of the concept and practices of literacy 2 0 and how it differs from literacy 1 0 Specific examples and resource links for using technology with diverse learners in the K 8 classroom including translation sites and multilingual materials Examples of teacher to student and student to student wiki and blog interactions Companion blog offers ongoing support including links to resources new teaching tools classroom examples and more There are many things that I love about this book It is written with a voice wise to both the opportunities and the challenges of classroom teaching It also contains a vast number of ideas that can be immediately used in your classroom Of course too it describes effective teaching of new literacies with so many new technologies In addition it begins by providing a clear and compelling framework to put all of the upcoming ideas into a package that will make perfect sense to any teacher From the Foreword by Donald J Leu Neag Chair in Literacy and Technology University of Connecticut Neag School of Education Written in a clear and practical format this book weaves research based practices across print and digital literacy worlds into engaging learning communities for younger and older readers alike Denise Johnson s innovative lessons and assessment ideas provide step by step supports for designing curriculum in a Web 2 0 world Julie Coiro University of Rhode Island
