Borgerding, 2018-06-21 This edited book provides a global view on evolution education It describes the state of evolution education in different countries that are representative of geographical regions around the globe such as Eastern Europe Western Europe North Africa South Africa North America South America Middle East Far East South East Asia Australia and New Zealand Studies in evolution education literature can be divided into three main categories a understanding the interrelationships among cognitive affective epistemological and religious factors that are related to peoples views about evolution b designing implementing evaluating evolution education curriculum that reflects contemporary evolution understanding and c reducing antievolutionary attitudes This volume systematically summarizes the evolution education literature across these three categories for each country or geographical region The individual chapters thus include common elements that facilitate a cross cultural meta analysis Written for a primarily academic audience this book provides a much needed common background for future evolution education research across the globe Labour Beyond Cosatu Andries

Bezuidenhout, Malehoko Tshoaedi, Christine Bischoff, 2017-07-01 Labour Beyond Cosatu is the fourth volume in the series Taking Democracy Seriously a ground breaking textured and nuanced study on workers and democracy which was established in the 1990s The series looks at members of trade unions affiliated to the Congress of South African Trade Unions Cosatu and provides a rich database of trade union members and research conducted over the past twenty years It is one of the very few such resources available to researchers anywhere in the world Labour Beyond Cosatu paints a complex picture The 12 chapters of the volume explore various rebellions and conflicts in the trade union sector starting with the National Union of Mineworkers NUM and rivalries between Cosatu affiliates Unpacking the conflicts between state sector and private sector workers contributors look at the impact of generational and educational shifts seen by some commentators as proof that Cosatu is now middle class The book also raises the issue of gender in the unions by usefully locating the controversy around charges levelled at Zwelinzima Vavi in 2013 in the larger context of serious problems in the gender politics within parts of Cosatu Refuting the image of a union federation solidly committed to the ANC Labour Beyond Cosatu presents evidence of a sharp decline in support for the ANC within Cosatu and growing scepticism towards the Alliance It shows that attempts to understand the labour movement in South Africa in the future will need to include research of smaller independent unions and social movements The volume s contributors make a major contribution to key debates on labour and democracy providing new material that can potentially shift the discussion in important ways This book will be of great value to students and researchers in Industrial Sociology Political Studies Industrial Psychology and Economics and Management institutional arrangements for the public provision of basic education Using the vivid example of South Africa a country that had ambitious goals at the outset of its transition from apartheid to democracy it explores how the interaction of politics and institutions affects educational outcomes By examining lessons learned from how South Africa failed to achieve many of its goals it constructs an innovative alternative strategy for making process combining practical steps to achieve incremental gains to re orient the system towards learning

Life History Research ,2009-01-01 Much has been written about lifehistory research in recent times It has been paraded as a counterculture to the traditional research canon and celebrated as a genre that promotes methodological pluralism However lifehistory researchers have an obligation to transcend spurious claims about the perceived merits of the methodology and extend the debates around how the genre simultaneously problematises and responds to the competing challenges of Epistemology Methodology and Representation In conceiving of each of the chapters from an epistemological perspective the authors focus on how their individual work has crossed or expanded traditional borders of epistemology and ontology of how the work has satisfied the rigours of thesis production and contributed to changing conceptions of knowledge what knowledge gets produced and how knowledge is produced when we make particular methodological choices Since any methodological orientation is invariably selective and the researcher is always involved and implicated in the production of data the authors focus on what selections they have made in their projects what governed these choices what benefits deficits those choices yielded and what the implications of their research are for those meta narratives that have established the regimes of truth legitimacy and veracity in research Knowledge production is inextricably linked to representation In the process of articulating their findings each author made particular representational choices sometimes transgressing conventional approaches The book explores why these choices were made and how the choices influenced the kinds of knowledge generated The book provides theoretical justifications for these transgressions and reflect on how the experience of representation helped disrupt the authors essentialist notions of research production and for whom it is produced This book is not another celebration of lifehistory as a counterculture The book hopes to be a deeply critical contribution to disrupt notions around epistemological authority voice and power and how these are mediated by the delicate relations of the researcher and researched The problematises and complicates the assumptions that frame this genre with a view to highlighting the potential hazards of the method while demonstrating its potentiality in shaping our conceptions of Ethics Methodology and Representation

Potential Attrition in Education Elsje J. Hall, Miriam Altman, 2005 The decision to change one s job is usually preceded by a process of job evaluation and determining alternative employment opportunities Dissatisfaction with the workplace can be a strong incentive to seek alternative opportunities This study focuses on the role played by job satisfaction morale and HIV AIDS in educator attrition The responses of educators who considered leaving their jobs were compared to the responses of those preferring to stay Findings reveal that job dissatisfaction linked to poor salaries and limited possibilities for career development as well as the lack of status and respect attached to the profession may push educators out of the classroom The low morale amongst potential leavers reflects this dissatisfaction as well as the stress caused by curriculum transformation and the emotional impact of HIV AIDS Factors encouraging educators to stay in their profession included their passion for developing young people and strong collegial relationships However many also feel trapped by limited job alternatives and may embark on withdrawal options such as increased absenteeism or lower outputs It is crucially important to deal with the sources of educator frustration lest the result becomes deteriorating service provision and quality in South African education

Champion Hearts Thando Mgenge, 2013-04 This is not the book about wealth and prosperity It is not aimed at solving every problem on earth While attempting to enlighten Christians about false preaching it does not discard the promises of the Lord for those whose hope is in Him The gist of the book is simple a dream born of the Lord can never be changed by circumstances The precepts that guide Christian living never change because of one's condition at a particular point in time God expects us to be obedient to His commands so that we can achieve and bless mankind accordingly More importantly life is centered in the heart If the same heart has been tempered with and no remedial process has happened the heart remains restless
