

Technical Analysis V/S Fundamental Analysis

The major difference between Fundamental Analysis (FA) and Technical Analysis (TA) is, While fundamental analysts examine earnings, dividends, new products, research and the like, technical analysts examine what investors fear or think about those developments and whether or not investors have the option to back up their opinions; these two concepts are called psych (psychology) and supply/demand(should consider very important in TA). Analysts employ many techniques, one of which is the use of charts. Using charts, technical analysts seek to identify price patterns and market trends in financial markets and attempt to exploit those patterns.
