Navigating Teacher Education in Complex and Uncertain Times Carmen I. Mercado, 2019-04-04 Carmen I. Mercado draws on four decades of seminal research and theory on how American children who come from homes where languages other than English are spoken learn to read and to write in school to reveal aspects of locally responsive planning and adaptations that should be central to any teacher education program that hopes to serve its unique local population base responsibly Mercado uses a range of theoretical lenses particularly those surrounding critical theory the approach designed to deconstruct power relationships in society to capture and explain the complexities of the teaching learning process making visible institutional social and political influences clear She explores an extensive collection of tools and resources for teaching to explore how educators can inform their thinking and shape their own practices to broaden access to people and resources and to influence classroom instruction as school populations becomes increasingly diverse on a global scale through immigration Mercado also shows how self study has been a key aspect of her program s evolution suggesting that teacher education should be informed by teacher educators own investigations into their own programs and processes that each teacher educator ought to be an active reinventor of her own program based on reflection on current data Mercado sensitively draws together the technical and emotional dimensions of learning to teach acknowledging that critical theory can bring up deep often uncomfortable feelings of anger guilt resentment and other responses to unfair conditions However since schools are designed as places of opportunity facing these responses is essential at a time with the feelings of antagonism that characterize the present day world and its conflictual social groups Mercado offers the opportunity to address these facets of educational process in compelling informed ways Every Child Can Write, Grades 2-5 Melanie

Meehan,2019-09-20 Empowering striving writers to thrive as writers Somehow in every classroom during every year there are students who keep us up at night because of the instructional challenges they face as writers These students our striving writers may find success exploring different entry points and pathways than those their classmates travel Every Child Can Write will help you lead striving writers along their journey toward growth confidence and success Filled with practical strategies classroom management ideas and reproducible tools this book also offers low and high tech solutions for increasing writing volume and boosting self esteem Plus with suggestions for differentiating instruction based on standards and student needs it will help you Implement principles of UDL to optimize your classroom environment and student learning Identify and honor students strengths throughout your writing instruction Maximize the power of formative assessment to set goals with students and Integrate the most appropriate technology that empowers students and leads them to independence As essential as writing is in elementary school it will be even more important when your students reach middle school Now is the time to give them the skills practice and confidence they need to succeed As we know in distance learning caregivers and teachers partner more than ever to help students with writing The Distance Learning companion to Every Child Can Write is for teachers to share with caregivers to help children develop their writing lives even while learning at home Each of the eight modules contains video clips that talk caregivers through tools for supporting their student writers along with downloadable tools that can be used by teachers or caregivers Text Sets Joanne Kilgour Dowdy,Rachael
