The Bridegroom Ha Jin, 2001-01-16 From the remarkable Ha Jin winner of the National Book Award for his celebrated novel Waiting a collection of comical and deeply moving tales of contemporary China that are as warm and human as they are surprising disturbing and delightful In the title story the head of security at a factory is shocked first when the handsomest worker on the floor proposes marriage to his homely adopted daughter and again when his new son in law is arrested for the crime of homosexuality In After Cowboy Chicken Came to Town the workers at an American style fast food franchise receive a hilarious crash course in marketing deep frying and that frustrating capitalist dictum the customer is always right Ha Jin has triumphed again with his unforgettable storytelling in The Bridegroom

Reading Practices, Postcolonial Literature, and Cultural Mediation in the Classroom Ingrid Johnston,Jyoti Mangat,2012-03-24 In this book Johnston and Mangat consider ways in which particular postcolonial and multicultural literary texts are able to provide a space of cultural mediation for readers from various backgrounds The studies described in the five chapters of the book explore the spaces of convergence of identity culture and literature with students and teachers in high school contexts and undergraduates in university settings In each study readers are responding to texts that are culturally distant from their own literary and experiential histories An objective of each study was to consider the nature of the cultural locations of the reader and the text and the interstitial spaces between these locations The book interrogates readers attempts to negotiate cultural difference in literary contexts and questions how this negotiation requires reading
