The Black Cat Edgar Allan Poe, Dave Williams, 2018-04-23. After setting up his story from this perspective, the man tells the reader about a cat named Pluto he used to have as a pet. He describes Pluto as a remarkably large beautiful animal entirely black. The narrator's wife jokes that the cat might be a witch in disguise given its unusual intelligence. The narrator and Pluto have a close bond. He takes care of Pluto and Pluto follows him everywhere around the house. It is a very tender relationship. Then everything goes wrong. The narrator, an alcoholic, starts getting angry at everyone. He mistreats his wife and their other animals but he never hurts Pluto. But one night the narrator comes home drunk and thinks Pluto is avoiding him. He grabs the cat who bites him. In retaliation, the narrator cuts out one of the cat's eyes. After he sleeps off his drunken state, the narrator is horrified about his actions. It is not enough to get him to stop drinking though. The cat's eye socket heals but Pluto and the narrator no longer have a good relationship. Pluto starts to avoid the narrator all the time. Instead of feeling remorseful, the narrator just feels irritated at the cat's behavior. The narrator hangs the cat in cold blood from a tree. That night his house burns down. The narrator, his wife, and their servant all escape the fire unharmed but the fire destroys his home and all of his possessions. When the narrator returns to the ashes later, he sees the figure of a cat on the only surviving wall. Months pass. The narrator sees a cat remarkably similar to Pluto except that on its chest is a white patch. The cat follows him home. At first the narrator likes the cat but soon he can't stand the cat at all, especially after he notices that one of its eyes is missing. The more he hates the cat, the more the cat likes him. The narrator cannot bring himself to hurt the cat because he is afraid of it. The white shape on its chest morphs into a gallows, a direct reminder of his crime against Pluto. Eventually the narrator is driven so mad that he tries to kill the cat with an axe. His wife intervenes and the narrator ends up killing his wife. He decides to conceal the body inside his house behind the wall of the basement. The narrator looks for the cat but it is missing. For three nights he sleeps undisturbed by the cat Then on the fourth day police come to his house to ask questions about his wife s disappearance During their investigation the narrator raps on the wall he has rebuilt to conceal his wife s corpse The noise of him knocking causes the cat which had accidentally become sealed inside the wall to howl alerting the police to the presence of the narrator s wife
