nonsense theme throughout the text For instance he repeatedly remarks that technical flourishes are excessive and contrasts worrying about such things with the principle that all technique is simply a method of cutting down one's opponent He also continually makes the point that the understandings expressed in the book are important for combat on any scale whether a one on one duel or a massive battle Descriptions of principles are often followed by admonitions to investigate this thoroughly through practice rather than trying to learn them by merely reading Musashi describes and advocates a two sword fencing style nit jutsu that is wielding both katana and wakizashi contrary to the more traditional method of wielding the katana two handed However he only explicitly describes wielding two swords in a section on fighting against many adversaries The stories of his many duels rarely refer to Musashi himself wielding two swords although since they are mostly oral traditions their details may be inaccurate Musashi states within the volume that one should train with a long sword in each hand thereby training the body and improving one's ability to use two blades simultaneously
