

A Unit on To Kill a Mockingbird

Melinda Clifton

College of Education

Nominated by Patricia Calahan, Associate Professor of Teacher Education

Melinda Clifton is a senior from Bay City, Mich., pursuing a degree in Secondary Education. After she graduates from SVSU next fall, she plans to teach either English, her major, or Geography, her minor, to middle school or high school students. Having a passion for literature herself, Melinda looks forward to helping students analyze and appreciate literature.

Note: The following paper contains excerpts from a twenty-day unit on Harper Lee's To Kill a Mockingbird, to be taught in an eleventh-grade English classroom. A unit is the instructional plan for a set space of time. It contains plans for each daily class period, as well as goals and assessments for the unit, rationales for why the unit should be taught, and various resources needed to carry out the lessons. The goals of this unit are aligned with the Michigan Department of Education's High School Content Expectations (HSCE).

The excerpts below contain the rationales, the assessment chart, and the daily lesson plans for days 1, 2, 6, 7, and 8. These five days have been selected to represent the kinds of learning activities the students will be engaged in. In the first column of the assessment chart, "CE" stands for Content Expectation. Content Expectations may be found at the Michigan Department of Education's official website. Finally, the special needs and accommodations section of the 15-component lesson plan has been left temporarily undetermined, as it will need to be designed with a particular classroom in mind.

Rationale for "A Unit on To Kill a Mockingbird"

Why is it important to students at their developmental level?

Students are aware of racial tensions, whether they have heard about them or have personally experienced them. Teenagers are almost always outraged by injustices they see and will sympathize with Tom Robinson, who is unfairly accused. They will admire how Atticus stands up to the bigoted bullies and will be able to discover how they can emulate his peaceful yet steady and unapologetic resistance in their own lives. Students will then see that these situations are not unique to literature; they are also found in real life. Students will examine the Scottsboro Trials and see that Tom Robinson's situation mirrors real life injustices. They will also examine the "I Have a Dream" speech by Martin Luther King, Jr., and see that nonviolent resistance, as Atticus practiced, is a real, powerful force. These connections to real life will stir students to be more aware of injustices and more active in standing against them.

Why is the unit important for U.S. citizenship? (Why does your neighbor need to know this information?)

Students need to become aware of the prejudices that are still very prevalent in U.S. society and learn how to stand up to them, knowing what to say and how to say it. Whether it is distrust of those of Middle Eastern descent, a belief that Hispanics must learn English or get out of the country, or the assumption that an African American man in the convenience store at night is a threat, students must and will confront prejudices and learn how to counter them. Students will see how nonviolent resistance has the power to change small counties and large nations, in the form of Atticus' defense of an innocent black man in To Kill a Mockingbird and Martin Luther King's steady, nonviolent resistance represented by his famous "I Have a Dream" speech. As the students complete a journal entry, they will reflect on how they have or can stand up to prejudice and negative social pressure as these men did.

Why is the unit important for Global Citizenship? (Global or multicultural)

The United States is composed of many different racial and ethnic, religious, and cultural groups, all of which should be respected and treated with equality. Students of the current generation need to be reminded of the history of racism in this country in order to gain a new perspective on the racism and prejudice we still see today. The students will see prejudice through the eyes of the victims of prejudice. The students will examine both how authors treat members of minority groups and how members of minority groups communicate their experience in their own words. The focus of this unit will be on the experiences of African Americans.
